THE DIAPASON

DECEMBER, 1992

Here & There

The Community of Jesus at Rock Harbor, Orleans, MA, presents the sixteenth annual English Carol Concert featuring the handbell choir, the children's choirs, and the chapel choir, Gloriæ Dei Cantores. Two performances will be held on December 13 at 3:30 pm and 7:00 pm, with a formal Christmas Buffet Dinner at 5:30 pm. For reservations call 508/255-6204.

Memphis Boychoir and Memphis Chamber Choir

Under the direction of John Ayer, the Memphis Boychoir and Memphis Chamber Choir have released their second CD recording entitled Shout the Glad Tidings. Diane Meredith Belcher served as organ accompanist. The disc, on the Pro Organo label (CD #7037), on the Pro Organo label (CD #7037), features music of Arnatt, Aston, Baur, Britten, Freund, Hoiby, Howells, Ma-thias, Rorem, Sowerby, Walton, and Wishart. Of the 17 pieces on the re-cording, five are world premiere record-ings. A special introductory note was written by Ned Rorem. The CD is available for $15 from Pro Organo Stu-dios Edison Park Station South Bend dios, Edison Park Station, South Bend, IN 46660-6494. For information on the Choirs' availability, contact Julie Camp-bell-Lang, Artists Representative, 340 S. Reese, Memphis, TN 38111; 901/ 327-2417

The Curtis Organ Restoration Soci-The Curtis Organ Restoration Soci-ety will offer a pipe organ tour of London and Paris December 29-Janu-ary 7. The cost of $1,550 includes airfare, lodging, and most meals. For information: Jackie Martin, tour direc-tor, Travel Associates, 56 W. Eagle Rd., Havertown, PA 19083; 215/449-4466.

The 18th annual Church Music Ex-The 18th annual Church Music Ex-plosion takes place January 5–10 at Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church, Ft. Lauderdale, FL. Workshop faculty in-cludes Paul Salamunovich, Michael Kemp, Sue Ellen Page, David R. Da-vidson, Brian Trevor, Diane Bish, Fred Bock, and others. The event includes four anthem reading sessions three even four anthem reading sessions, three eve-ning concerts, daily concerts, music and book store, displays, and specialty clas-ses. For information: Coral Ridge Pres-byterian Church, Attn: Shirley Rey-mond, 5555 N. Federal Hwy., Ft. Lauderdale, FL 33308.

On January 15, 1993, the London Centre, Royal Canadian College of Organists, along with the City of London, will sponsor a performance of two organ concertos by London composers to celebrate London's 200th anniversary. Karen-Ann Schuessler will perform Gerald Bales' 1950 Concerto for Organ and String Orchestra and Ronald Fox will play Gerhard Wuensch's 1976 Concerto for Organ, String Orchestra, 3 trumpets and timpani. The symphony orchestra of the University of Western Ontario will be conducted by Jerome Summers. The performance will take place at St. Paul's Cathedral, London, Ontario.

Carthage College has announced the 2nd annual Organ Festival and Scholarship Competition on February 6-7. The festival will feature David Craighead as guest recitalist and clinician. The scholarship competition will offer awards of $11,000 and $8,000 for undergraduate organ majors. Siebert Chapel houses a 4-manual Casavant tracker organ of 68 ranks. Susan Klotzbach joined the Carthage faculty in 1991. For information: Carthage Col-lege, Attn: Dr. Susan Klotzbach, 2001 Alford Park Dr., Kenosha, WI 53140-9984; 414/551-5733.

The Chicago Club of Women Organ-ists announces its 42nd annual Gruen-stein Memorial Organ Contest for young women organists to be held in May, 1993. The competition is open to women who will not have reached their women who will not have reached their 30th birthday by May 1, 1993. The required piece for this year is J.S. Bach's Trio Sonata (no. 6) in G Major, 2nd and 3rd movements, BWV 530. Preliminary judging will be by cassette and the recording must not be done before January 1, 1993. Deadline for receiving cassettes is March 27. For further in-formation and an application form formation and an application form, write to Dr. Elizabeth Naegele, 2516 Edina Blvd., Zion, IL 60099-2702.

The 10th Swiss Organ Competition took place September 25–October 2 in The Grisons, with a program devoted

THE DIAPASON A Scranton Gillette Publication

Eighty-third Year, No. 12, Whole No. 997 Established in 1909

DECEMBER, 1992 ISSN 0012-2378

An International Monthly Devoted to the Organ, the Harpsichord and Church Music Official Journal of the International Society for Organ History and Preservation

CONTENTS		Editor	JEROME BUTERA
FEATURES Why not get Organized? by Denis William Stevens	12	Associate Editor	WESLEY VOS
REPORTS
Institute for Music and Liturgy by Jane Scharding	10	Contributing Editors	LARRY PALMER Harpsichord
Summer Institute for French Organ by William D. Gudger	Studies 11
University of Michigan 14th International Organ Institute by Melody Meadows & James Spirup 11			JAMES McCRAY Choral Music
NEWS			HERBERT L. HUESTIS
Here & There	2, 3, 4		IN-Group Forum
Appointments	3		puServe ID #70771,1047
Nunc Dimittis	4	Internet: 70771.1047@compuserve.com
Carillon News	6
			BRIAN SWAGER
REVIEWS			Carillon
Music for Voices and Organ	6
Book Reviews	6
New Recordings	8
New Organ Music	10	THE DIAPASON (ISSN 00 monthly by Scranton Gillet	012-2378) is published
NEW ORGANS	14	380 E. Northwest Highway 2282. Phone (708) 298-66	y, Des Plaines, IL 60016-
CALENDAR	17	Telex: 206041 MSG RLY. Subscriptions: 1 vr. $18:	2 yr. $27; 3 yr. $36 (United ORGAN RECITALS	18	States and U.S. possessior 1 yr. $28; 2 yr. $43; 3 yr. (U.S.A.); $5 (foreign).	ns). Foreign subscriptions:
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING	21	Back issues over one ye	ear old are available only from The Organ Historica 26811, Richmond, VA 23
		information on availabilities	and prices.
Subscribers: Send subscriptions, in-		Second-class postage p additional mailing offices.	aid at Des Plaines, IL, and
quiries and address changes t	.	dress changes to THE E
DIAPASON, 380 E. Northwest Hig		Highway, Des Plaines, IL 60	0016.
Des Plaines, IL 60016-2282. Give old		Routine items for publica weeks in advance of the mo	ation must be received six onth of issue. For advertis-

Routine items for publication must be received six weeks in advance of the month of issue. For advertis-ing copy, the closing date is the 1st. Prospective contributors of articles should request a style sheet. Unsolicited reviews cannot be accepted. This journal is indexed in The Music Index, anno-tated in Music Article Guide, and abstracted in RILM Abstracts.

No portion of the contents of this issue may be reproduced in any form without the specific written permission of the Editor, except that libraries are authorized to make photocopies of the material contained herein for the purpose of course reserve reading at the rate of one copy for every fifteen students. Such copies may be reused for other courses or for the same course offered subsequently.

to Alpen organ music. The competition was held on the organs of St. Margre-then Church (Ilanz), Chur History Mu-seum, and Valendas Church, with a jury composed of Lorenzo Ghielmi, Jean-Claude Zehnder, and Guy Bovet. No first prize was awarded; second prize went to Gerhard Gnann (Ger-many) and Erik-Jan van der Hel (Holland); third prize went to Thilo Muster (Germany) and Andreas Maisch (Germany).

and new addresses, including zip codes. Enclose address label from last issue and allow four weeks for change

to become effective.

Cathedral Associates is presenting its 1992-93 concert season at St. Mark's Cathedral, Seattle. The season began with Melvin Butler, October 16; Joseph Adam, November 20; Handel's Messiah, December 3, 4, 5; and continues with David and Marian Craighead, January 15; James David Christie, March 5; and Wolfgang Rübsam, May 7.

The life and contributions of Lowell Mason (1792–1872), music educator, composer, anthologist, and conductor, were commemorated in Boston with lectures and an exhibit in September, marking the 200th anniversary of his marking the 200th anniversary of his birth. A three-part lecture series by Carol Pemberton was held at the Boston Public Library, the Church of the Cov-enant, and First Unitarian Church (Medfield). A related exhibit of Mason's original manuscripts, scores, books, and portraits was on display at the Boston Public Library in September. Following the lecture at the Church of the Cove-nant Brenda Leach performed organ nant, Brenda Leach performed organ works based on Mason tunes and con-ducted the choir singing anthems composed by Mason.

The American Boychoir is featured on a new CD recording, Dixit Dominus, on the MusicMasters label (67084-2). The disc includes settings of Dixit Do-minus by Vivaldi and Handel, with Julianne Baird, Rita Lilly, and Joanna McCarty, sopranos; Jeffrey Dooley and Drew Minter, countertenors; Frank Beam tenor. Elem Eley haritone: Ari-Ream, tenor; Elem Eley, baritone; Arizeder Urriztieta, bass; the Albemarle Consort of Voices; the Eighteenth Cen-Consort or voices; the Eighteenth Cen-tury Ensemble; and the American Boy-choir; under the direction of James Litton. For information: MusicMasters, 1710 Highway 35, Ocean, NJ 07712-2910; 908/531-3375.

The American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, IL, has announced the formation of its new commercial recording label, and invites inquiries from artists who are interested in recordings of their work on the CONSERVATORY label. The recordings will be state of the art, with facilities built around mul-tichannel direct to disc digital audio MIDI synthesizer capability. For infor-mation: Artist and Repertory Division, The American Conservatory of Music, Suite 1850, 16 N. Wabash Ave., Chi-cago, IL 60602.

The University of Michigan School of Music, Organ Department, an-nounces the creation of a new degree "Master of Music in Carillon." The new program will be administered by Assis-tant Professor Margo Halsted, Univer-sity Carillonneur. Professor Halsted earned a diploma from the Netherlands Carillon School in Amersfoort and was a finalist in the first North American carillon playing competition. The Michigan carillon, made by the John Taylor Bell Foundry in England, dates from 1936.

Margo Halsted

Admission requirements include a bachelor's degree in music and proficiency on a keyboard instrument. Prospective students are encouraged to write for information to Admissions, School of Music, The University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48109.

Appointments

James T. Benzmiller

James T. Benzmiller Company, Ltd. has been appointed a representative for Van Bergen Bellfoundries, Inc., of Charleston, SC, in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Upper Michigan. Benzmiller also represents Austin Organs in those states.

Van Bergen cast its first bell in 1795 and represents nine generations of experience. They are the U.S. distributor of Paccard Fonderie de Cloches of Annecy-le-vieux, France. New bells or existing bells may be automatically rung in a stationary position or may be swung. Cast bell carillons with towers are custom designed. Van Bergen also provides Professional Series Carillons which are based on the sound of Paccard bells using sampling techniques. 61-bell keyboard carillons allow for record and playback as well as random access. Also available are tower clocks, new mechanisms for old clocks and clock/bell integration systems.

For information, contact James T. Benzmiller, 620 Sunrise Ave., Stevens Point, WI 54481; 715/344-4434.

Catharine Crozier has been appointed Artist-in-Residence at Trinity Episcopal Church, Portland, OR. John Strege, Organist-Choirmaster at Trinity, announced that Miss Crozier will participate in recitals and other musical activities throughout the music season at Trinity, including recording a compact disc for Delos International. Miss Crozier recently moved to Portland from Los Angeles. Prior to that time she was a faculty member of the Eastman

Catharine Crozier

School of Music 1938–1955 and later organist of the Knowles Memorial Chapel and a member of the faculty of Rollins College.

Rollins College. Catharine Crozier has played recitals throughout the U.S., Canada and Europe, made appearances with orchestras, and has served as a member of the jury at the international organ competitions at Bruges, St. Albans and Chartres. She has been awarded the honorary degree, Doctor of Music, by Smith College and the University of Southern Colorado, the Doctor of Humane Letters from Illinois College, and Doctor of Fine Arts from Baldwin-Wallace College. Miss Crozier was one of the organists chosen to play inaugural recitals at Avery Fisher Hall and Alice Tully Hall at Lincoln Center, New York City. In 1976 she received the Eastman School of Music Alumni Achievement Award, in 1979 was named International Performer of the Year by the New York City AGO Chapter, and in 1983 she received the University of Rochester Citation to Alumni.

Richard D. Erickson has been appointed Director of Music at Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, New York City. He will be responsible for music for all worship services, including the Bach Vesper series, now celebrating its 25th season. Most recently Erickson served as Cantor and Director of Music for 14 years at the Lutheran Church of the Incarnate Word in Rochester, NY. A native of Superior, WI, he is assistant professor of church music at the Eastman School, and senior associate in organ, community division, at Eastman. Erickson is regional councillor for AGO Region II and was regional VP of the Association of Lutheran Church Musicians 1986–88. He holds degrees from the University of Wisconsin and the Eastman School of Music, and is an Associate in Ministry in the ELCA.

Lucius R. Weathersby

Lucius R. Weathersby has been appointed Director of Music/Organist of the First Congregational Church of Waterloo, IA. In this position he will conduct the church's three choirs and two handbell choirs, and will oversee the Congregational Concert Series, which features U.S. and European artists.

Mr. Weathersby holds two BA degrees from Dillard University, in Music and German, and the MMus in organ from the University of Northern Iowa, with additional study in Germany and at Northwestern State University in Louisiana. As a recitalist Mr. Weathersby has performed in the U.S., Germany, and Central America.

Here & There

Elizabeth and Raymond Chenault

Elizabeth and Raymond Chenault presented a gift to the AGO when they privately commissioned two pieces for premiere performances at the AGO national convention in Atlanta last June. The works, both performed by the Chenaults at the convention, were Sonata à Deux (1991) by Gaston Litaize, and Rhapsody (1992) by Naji Hakim.

The works, both performed by the Chenaults at the convention, were Sonata à Deux (1991) by Gaston Litaize, and Rhapsody (1992) by Naji Hakim. Hakim's work is based on four themes: an Angelus from Brittany, a French carol, a dance theme, and the American spiritual "Go tell it on the mountain." The Litaize piece is believed to be his final composition, and is based on Victimae Paschali. The Chenaults have contributed a

The Chenaults have contributed a number of works by major composers to the repertoire for organ duo performance. They have recorded much of it for Gothic and much is published by Belwin Mills as "The Chenault Organ Duet Library."

John Gardiner's Mass in D received its U.S. premiere on October 18 by the Camerata Singers of Spring Lake, MI, conducted by Floyd H. Farmer, Jr. The Mass is in English except for the Kyrie, and uses three incipits as focal ideas, two from the plainchant of Credo VI and Gloria IV and the third from the Chopin op. 18. The orchestra score includes a solo saxophone.

includes a solo saxophone. Gardiner was born in Manchester, England on March 2, 1917, and educated at Eagle House, Sandhurst; Wellington College, Berkshire; and Exeter College, Oxford. He has held teaching posts at Repton School, the Royal Academy of Music, and St. Paul's Girls' School. In 1975 he retired from teaching, and continues to compose. The Mass dates from 1983. For inspection copies and additional information, contact the Performance Department of Oxford University Press, 800/334-4249, ext 7166.

Dunstan House has announced the publication of Sketchbook I for Organ by Daniel E. Gawthrop. The work was commissioned by the Spencerville Seventh-day Adventist Church in Silver Spring, MD, for the dedication recital by English organist Simon Preston of their new four-manual 78-rank Möller organ. The piece is in three movements: Incantation, Elegy, and Passacaglia (which includes bits of Pomp and Circumstance, Marche Slav, Old Hundredth, and Camptown Races). For information, contact Antara Music Group, 800/877-7732.

Fantasia on the Plainsong Hymn Te Lucis, by Roger Hannahs, was given its premiere at Sacred Heart Church, Waterbury, CT on September 27 for the Centennial Celebration of the parish. Susan Armstrong, who commissioned the work for the event, performed it on the 100-year-old Johnson & Son organ.

June Kean played a series of organ concerts in September in the Ukraine, formerly the USSR, including the opening concert for the First International Organ Festival of the Ukraine in the city of Kiev. In Kharkov she played two concerts, the proceeds of one donated to the relief of the victims of Chernobyl. Another recital was on the historic organ at Donetsk, which was rebuilt from an organ played by Tchaikowsky. June Kean is professor of music at Evangel College in Springfield, MO.

Dan Locklair's Creation Seeing Order: A Prelude for Orchestra is featured on a new Pro Arte Fanfare CD (CDS 3413) entitled "An American Composers Salute," with the Orchestra of the Americas conducted by Paul Freeman. Voyage: A Fantasy for Organ was premiered by D. Alan Morrison July 1 at the AGO convention in Atlanta, GA. The work was published in June by E.C. Kerby, Ltd.

Locklair was awarded a 1992–93 North Carolina Composer Fellowship for the creation of three works for orchestra; commissioned by the Charlotte Oratorio Singers (Charlotte, NC) for a large-scale choral work for chorus and orchestra; commissioned by the Mallarme Chamber Players of Durham, NC and the City Gallery for Contemporary Art for a new chamber work; and awarded a 1992–93 ASCAP award.

Barbara Harbach performed most of the solo organ music of Locklair as part of the Vendyssel Festivalen in Hjorring, Denmark, on August 5. Igor Kipnis gave the Polish premiere of Custer's Last Stand (on the ground) in Warsaw, Poland, in August. Choreographer Linda Kent is creating choreography to Locklair's The Breakers Pound (A Dance Suite for Harpsichord); the new ballet will be premiered November 20 and 21 at Wake Forest University.

Two major choral works by American composer Michael McCabe have recently been published. Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis in E-flat was written for William Self and the choir of All Saints' Church, Worcester, MA. The anthem God is Gone Up! was composed for John Schaeffer and the choir of Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral, Topeka, KS. Both are available from the publisher, Randall M. Egan, Ltd., Kenwood Abbey, 2024 Kenwood Pkwy., Minneapolis, MN 55405-2303.

Gilbert W. Mead retired as Professor of Sacred Music and Chairman of Organ Instruction at Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, IL, effective August 1, 1992. He has been a member of the music faculty at Moody for 30 years, and for 10 years prior to that had served as a staff musician in the school's Broadcasting Department. He has served as organist and choirmaster at various Chicago area churches over the years. In addition he has developed a business in organ building and maintenance which he will continue in retirement.

A graduate of Moody Bible Institute, Mead received the BMus from the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, and the MMus from Northwestern University, Evanston, IL, where he studied with Richard Enright. He and his wife, Martha, reside in Elmhurst, IL, and have four sons and several grandchildren. In addition to building and maintaining organs, Mr. Mead will continue in his position as organist of the College Church, Wheaton, IL.

Alan Reesor is featured on a new CD recording, Canadian Organ Music— Historic Organs of Prince Edward Island, produced by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (WRC8-6562). The program is played on organs by Watson Duchemin (Dr. Steel Recital Hall, University of Prince Edward Island, Charlottetown), Louis Mitchell (Church of St. Simon and St. Jude, Tignish), Casavant (Eglise St-Philippe et St-Jacques, Egmont Bay; Church of St. John the Baptist, Misouche; St. Joachim's Church, Vernon River), Karn-Warren (Princetown United Church, Malpeque), and Hutchings (St. Peter's Cathedral, Charlottetown). For information: The Organ Literature Foundation, 45 Norfolk Rd., Braintree, MA 02184-5918.

David Schrader played the premiere of Morgan Simmons' Cityscape on September 13 at the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago. The three-movement work, which is inscribed to Dr. Schrader, was included in a recital of music by Chicago composers and was one of the principal events in the church's Ninth Annual Festival of the Arts, whose theme was "Faces of the City." The three movements — "The Loop," "The Lake in Autumn Mist," and "The Magnificent Mile" – attempt to capture reflections of Chicago in sound. Works by Dudley Buck, Ralph Shapey, Wilhelm Middleschulte, Eric DeLamarter, Frank Ferko, and Leo Sowerby were included on the program. The recital was recorded by Minnesota Public Radio for broadcast on Pipedreams.

Howard Don Small played the dedication recital on October 18 on the new Holtkamp organ at Messiah Lutheran Church, Fargo, ND. The program included works of Böhm, Kellner, Bach, Manz, Peeters, Schumann, Franck, Ginastera, and Mendelssohn. Two services of dedication were played by Messiah's organist, Joan Brystol.

Christiaan Teeuwsen is featured on a new CD recording, Schnitger Orgel der Aa kerk Groningen, on the Sosta label (45201-2). The program includes works by Böhm, Walther, Buxtehude, Scheidemann, Muffat, and Lübeck. For information: Sosta Record Company, P.O. Box 118, 3925 ZJ Scherpenzeel, The Netherlands; tel 31(0)3497-4594; fax 31(0)3497-1124.

Ben van Oosten is featured on new CD recordings by Dabringhaus und Grimm. Charles-Marie Widor das Orgelwerk, Vol. 2 (MD+G L 3402) includes Symphonie Nr. 3 and Symphonie Nr. 4, played on the Cavaillé-Coll organ at St-François-de-Sales, Lyon. Alexandre Guilmant Complete Organ Sonatas (MD+G L 4340-42) is a set of three CDs, played on the Cavaillé-Coll organ at St-Ouen, Rouen. For information: Dabringhaus und Grimm, Bachstr. 35, D-4930 Detmold, Germany; tel 05231-24001; fax 05231-26186.

The Westminster Concert Bell Choir, Donald A. Allured, conductor, is featured on a new CD recording, Christmas Bells, on the Gothic label (G 49055). The disc includes 24 familiar Christmas melodies arranged for handbells, played on one of the largest sets of handbells in the world, 90 bells covering 7½ octaves. For information: Gothic Records, P.O. Box 1576, Tustin, CA 92681; 1-800/735-4720. Harold Flammer Music has announced the release of several new collections of organ music in this its 75th anniversary year: Seven Chorale Preludes for the Christmas Season, by Michael Bedford (HF-5193 $8.50); Partita on "Foundation," by Alice Jordan (HF-5055 $6,50); Noel with Variations, by Henry Kihlken (HF-5058 $6.50); Organ Suite on "St. Anne," by Peter Pindar Stearns (HH-5057 $6.50); and Suite Medievale (Church Sonata), by Gordon Young (HH-5056 $6.50). For information: Harold Flammer Music, Shawnee Press, Inc., Deleware Water Gap, PA 18327.

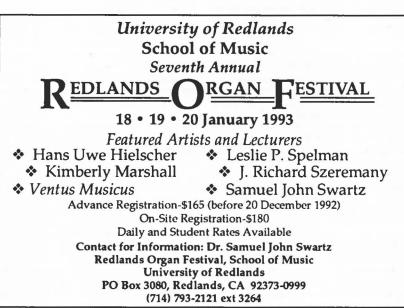

Greenwood Press has announced the publication of Johann Sebastian Bach: A Tercentenary Celebration, edited by Seymour L. Benstock (Contributions to the Study of Music and Dance, Number 19; prepared under the auspices of Hofstra University). The book is a collection of essays from a conference held at Hofstra University, with contributions by Howard C. Adams, Sammuel Baron, Charles Joseph, David Schulenberg, Don Smithers, and others; 176 pages, $39.95. For information: 1-800/ 225-5800.

A Rodgers Classic Organ 940 was recently installed in the studio of organist/composer Diane Bish. The threemanual instrument is equipped with a Rodgers PR-300 Sequencer/Sound Module. In addition to being a practice instrument, the organ will record new compositions on 3.5" disks so the data may be entered into a computer. The installation was designed and completed by Thomas Magee of Rodgers Classic Organs of Indiana, Inc.

St. Therese R.C. Church

St. Therese Roman Catholic Church in Wilson, NC, recently completed construction of a new edifice with a flavor of Middle Ages English countryside and New England village architecture. A custom-designed Allen Organ was installed. Sheet rock walls and ceilings plus brick floors allow for a reverberation time of more than six seconds. The organ was installed in the rear gallery of the church. A special chamber was constructed on the back wall of the gallery behind the choir. The Pontifical Trumpet is in a special area high above the rear window of the chamber. An Ethereal organ division was placed in the front of the church above the reredos.

Nunc Dimittis

David Britton

David Britton died September 22 at his home in Altadena, CA from complications as a result of AIDS. He was 50 years old.

Britton had taught at Caltech from 1977 until last year. He held the BMus from the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, and the MMus and DMA from the Eastman School of Music. He had taught at Capitol University in Columbus, OH, before moving to Los Angeles to teach at Loyola Marymount University. In addition he had taught at Whittier College, Cal State Northridge, and Mount St. Mary's College, where he had been artist-in-residence since 1980, and had served as organist and minister of music at Corpus Christi Church in Pacific Palisades since 1986. As a recording artist on the Dolog

As a recording artist on the Delos label, his recordings include Masterworks for Organ by Grunewald and Langlais, Virtuoso Baroque Organ Toccatas, Gargoyles and Chimeras, and Organo Deco. Memorial services were held at Caltech on November 21.

Florence S. Hageman

Florence Irene Smith Hageman died of cancer August 25 at the age of 78 in Albuquerque, NM. Born in Dunellen, NJ, Florence

Born in Dunellen, NJ, Florence Hageman graduated with honors in music education in 1935 from Douglas College of Rutgers University. She held the CAGO certificate and earned the AAGO at age 75. In 1990 she organized the Student Organ Encounter Day for the Albuquerque AGO and was in the midst of planning the third SOE when she died. She served as dean of the Albuquerque Chapter 1981–82 and again 1990–91. It was through her instigation that the chapter is hosting the Region VII Convention in June 1993. Mrs. Hageman was organist for Trinity United Methodist Church and Congregation Albert in Albuquerque. She is survived by two sons, two daughters, a sister, and 12 grandchildren. Contributions to the Florence Hageman Memorial Scholarship Fund may be sent to Glenn L. Nelson; 2816 Texas St., NE, Albuquerque, NM 87110.

Melvin J. Light

Melvin J. Light died July 8 of a heart attack at his home in Ann Arbor, MI at the age of 68. He was an organ builder/ technician, piano technician, pianist, organist and choir director. Born October 13, 1923 in Reese, MI,

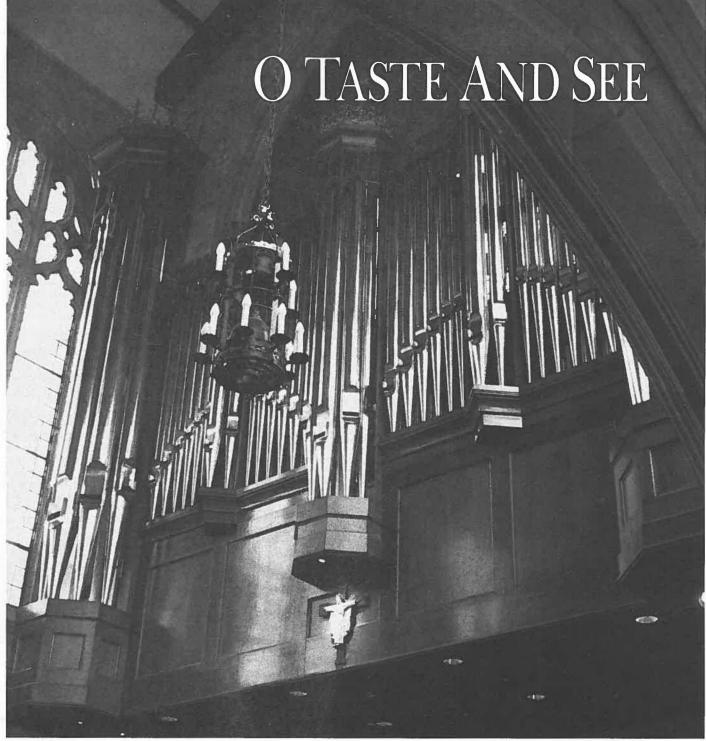

Born October 13, 1923 in Reese, MI, Mr. Light studied piano and organ at the Sherwood School of Music, Chicago, and at Trinity College of Music in England. He later studied for three years at the Juilliard School of Music and received a BMus from Aquinas College in 1954. For 24 years (1959–83) he was employed at the University of Michigan

For 24 years (1959–83) he was employed at the University of Michigan School of Music as organ technician. He maintained the Frieze Memorial Organ in Hill Auditorium and built five organs for the school. From 1948 until his death he remained active as an organ builder/ technician. He built a small organ for St. Thomas Church, Grand Rapids, and an organ for Mt. Mercy Academy. His interest in the work of Robert Noehren led to his position at the University of Michigan.

Mr. Light continued his business in instrument maintenance and performance in the surrounding community until the time of his death. His primary interest was in the work of E.M. Skinner. In 1976 Richard H. Skinner, son of E.M., asked Mr. Light and his wife, Janice (who is also an organist), to prepare for publication his father's manuscript, The Composition of the Organ, which was published in 1981. Mr. Light held membership in the Ann Arbor AGO Chapter, the OHS, and the Detroit-Windsor Chapter of the Piano Technician's Guild.

Technician's Guild. He is survived by his wife, Janice (Ruth) Light, two children, two brothers, a sister, mother-in-law, and numerous other family. A Requiem Mass was celebrated July 11 at St. Matthew's and St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, Detroit, and a memorial service was held July 17 at First Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor. A memorial fund has been established for the renovation of the 1926 E.M. Skinner organ at St. Matthew's and St. Joseph's Church. Contributions may be sent to St. Matthew's and St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, Melvin Light Memorial E.M. Skinner Organ Renovation Fund, 8850 Woodward Ave., Detroit, MI 48202.

Episcopal Chapel of St. John the Divine on the University of Illinois Champaign campus. Buzard Opus 7 organ: 29 stops, 36 ranks across two manuals and pedal.

arkness and flickering candlelight. Dim processions moving ever eastward. Phantasms of incense, curling and intertwining with ascending prayer. A Taste of Sound: A smokey flute, sweet strings, a Clarinet's spice. Unleavened mutations, washed with a warm rich Oboe.

A Banquet of Sound for a liturgy that is ever-changing, that is eternal.

Come, taste and see: relish the incomparable sound of a Buzard organ. To request a brochure or arrange a visit, call toll free 1-800-397-3103.

Hear organist George Damp in a program of English music featuring this instrument on Calcante Recordings #001, available from the Organ Historical Society, Box 26811, Richmond, VA 23261. 804-353-9226.

John-Paul UZAYA Organ Craftsmen, Inc. 🔶 112 West Hill Street 🔶 Champaign, IL 61820 Carillon News by Brian Swager

Deeds Carillon, Dayton OH

Profile: The Deeds Carillon

The 157-foot tall Deeds Carillon Tower, a gift to the Dayton community by Colonel Edward A. Deeds and his wife Edith, was designed by the New York architectural firm of Reinhard, Hofmeister, and Walquist. It is constructed of four steel shafts mounted in a granite base and faced with Indiana limestone. An unusual feature of the design is the entasis or convex curvature of the sides of the tower which are reduced in size by as much as eighteen inches, not in a straight line, but by means of a curve which bows three inches from top to bottom. The original bells were played by a piano-type keyboard located at the base

The original bells were played by a piano-type keyboard located at the base of the tower. There were 32 bells in the original configuration with 23 actually sounding. They were cast by the Meneely Bell Company of Troy, NY. The largest bell weighed 7,000 pounds and was inscribed with Col. Deeds' name and birth date. Today that bell is displayed at the base of the tower.

and birth date. Today that bell is displayed at the base of the tower. The Meneely Bell Company replaced four of the original bells in 1950. In 1964, the Van Bergen Bellfoundry replaced eleven bells, and from 1972–75, increased the total number of bells to 40.

In 1986, the Board of Trustees of Educational and Musical Arts, Inc., which oversees Carillon Historical Park, hired William DeTurk as a consultant to help determine how the instrument might be renovated. On Mr. DeTurk's recommendation, the Trustees decided to replace the entire instrument with a 50-bell carillon. The new carillon was designed at the I.T. Verdin Company and uses bells cast by Petit & Fritsen of Aarle-Rixtel, The Netherlands.

The bourdon of the carillon is a Bflat which weighs 6,765 pounds and has a diameter of 5'7''. The smallest bell is a C which weighs 24 pounds and has a diameter of 8". The fifty bells weigh a total of 18 and one-half tons. A practice instrument built by the I.T. Verdin Company was installed in the basement of the tower.

company was instanted in the basement of the tower. Larry Weinstein, the resident carillonneur, received the Final Diploma from the Netherlands Carillon School in 1974, where he was awarded the Prix d'Excellence in 1977. He also holds degrees in mechanical engineering from the University of Cincinnati, in manufacturing management from GMI Institute, and is currently Assistant Professor of Management at Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond.

Kentucky University in Richmond. Carillon Historical Park is a museum complex in a 65-acre park setting with the landmark Deeds Carillon as its capstone. The park is open to the public from May 1 through October 31, Tuesday through Sunday and on Memorial Day and Labor Day. Admission is free. Carillon concerts are held most Saturdays and every Sunday, in season, at 3 p.m. Call 513/293-2841 for further information.

Music for Voices and Organ

by James McCray

Sampling some solid American church music composers

And it came to pass, when the evil spirit from God was upon Saul, that David took the harp and played with his hand: so Saul was refreshed and was well, and the evil spirit departed from him. Old Testament

I Samuel

Writing this column for the past 14 years has been one of those "labors of love." The format of topic reviews (a composer, a genre, a style, a season, etc.) with an opening commentary has provided a special opportunity for me. The total process has permitted me to receive and review huge bodies of new publications which has been of benefit to me as a church musician and college teacher. It keeps me current. Organizing the works into categories has helped me focus on areas and then putting my thoughts into words on each of these topics has helped me grow. In short, this has been one of my most useful and joyous professional activities that has continued to challenge and benefit me directly.

Over the years of examining new publications certain American composers, arrangers, and editors emerge as having consistent quality. Seeing a new work by one of them is gratifying because it means that their music is being purchased and used; because if not, publishers eventually will abandon them. After all, the publishing houses are a profit seeking group! So, if people buy their music they are encouraged to publish more. Simple economics. When conductors purchase inferior music, it is a vote against quality. Think about that as you order music.

In an age of available copy machines, the numbers of publishers are shrinking. We are all aware of the misuse of copiers, and that has had the most profound impact on the industry in the past 25 years.

This month's column focuses on nine American church choral composers who consistently seem to create effective, useful, quality church settings. It is not suggested that these are the "top nine," but only that they merit your attention. Future columns will select others for review. Readers possibly have additional choices who do not appear in these selections. If there are composers whose music speaks to your choir, congregation, and you, then do all you can to support them. Seek out their new music, purchase and perform it with enthusiasm, and let your "vote" for their quality be counted. It could be one of the most important contributions you make to the future of our choral art.

Schools and churches are the primary resources of revenue for publishers. Generally their publications reflect what their patrons want, and if a composer's music is selling well, publishers are anxious to include it in their catalog. Keep in mind that the composer receives only 10% of the published price ($1.00 price gives the composer a dime), so few can exist in this profession without external income. That means that composers create because they want to do it, not because it is their livelihood. The annual royalty check most receive is small compensation for the amount of work and talent expended, especially in works of depth.

Look over this first list of composers to see if any of the names are familiar. For those new composers, consider getting acquainted with their style and repertoire. Above all, keep in mind that when you buy copies of music AND when you are making illegal copies of music you are casting a vote about the future of quality choral music. To duplicate 30 copies of a Bach work may solve your local situation for quality, but as with the government's debt, the destruction of the ozone layer, and other maladies of our time, it is a cannibalism of the future.

American Church Composers, Set I: Lloyd Pfautsch, Allen Pote, Noel Goemanne, Robert J. Powell, Robert Leaf, Richard Hillert, Eugene Butler, Walter Pelz, and Carl Schalk.

A Carol of Thanksgiving, Lloyd Pfautsch. SATB and keyboard, Augsburg Fortress, 11-10022, $1.00 (M-). Pfautsch, Professor of Music at Southern Methodist University, has written an impressive repertoire of choral works. He has remained one of America's premiere conductors, and for about 40 years has created a wealth of church music. This simple carol is especially appropriate for the harvest season. The choir, on two staves, is homophonic, often with parallel chords. In ABA, the middle treats men and women in unison and is less rhythmically energetic. The keyboard could be organ or piano and is accompanimental and easy.

Come to the Table, Allen Pote. SATB and keyboard, Coronet Press of Theodore Presser Co., 392-41678, $1.20 (E).

Pote's music generally is simple with attention to the part writing and ranges for the voices. The keyboard is usually functional and supportive, and he has the "average" church choir in mind most of the time. This communion anthem has a busy accompaniment in a 6/8 flowing meter. Much of the choral singing is in unison with only brief fourpart excursions.

Hymnus pro pace (Hymn for Peace), Noel Goemanne. SATB unaccompanied with STB soli, Mark Foster Music Co., MF 2080, $1.30 (M+).

Co., MF 2080, $1.30 (M +). Goemanne, a Belgian-born American, has received numerous awards for his music including the Pro Ecclesia Medal from Pope Paul VI. This expressive setting incorporates fragments from various languages (French, German, Hebrew, Dutch, etc.) but the basic text is in Latin. The choir often provides a gentle chordal background for the soloists. There are mild dissonances and dramatic dynamic change. Very effective.

Brightest and Best, Robert J. Powell. SATB and keyboard, Augsburg Publishing House, 11-10013, $1.00 (E). Powell is organist/choir director in Powell is organist/choir director in South Carolina and has over 200 works in print. This anthem is appropriate for Epiphany and is based on material from the 1835 Southern Harmony. The first two verses are unison SA then TB, and the final one is ATB with S descant. The middle verses are SATB. The keyboard, on two staves, is easy. The modal character gives the music a melancholy mood. Easy music for small choirs.

Out of the Depths I Cry to Thee, Robert Leaf. SATB, organ and optional brass quartet, Augsburg Fortress, 11-4688, $1.00 (M).

Leaf, a Minnesota composer, has long been active as a church composer. This Lenten anthem is based on a tune of Martin Luther. It is possible to perform it with only the brass quartet of 2 trumpets and 2 trombones. The music is slow, meditative and generally in a choral block-chord style. The final verse has an active accompaniment which adorns the chorale character of the choir. It ends big with great promise.

Alleluia! Voices Raise! Richard Hillert. SATB, brass choir, timpani, organ, and congregation, Oxford University Press, 94.231, $1.50 (M).

Hillert is an active church composer whose music is often very celebrative. This eight-minute anthem has six stanzas with the congregation joining on four of them in unison. The brass choir includes two trumpets, horn, trombone, and tuba and parts are available only on rental. This festive anthem was commissioned by Westminster Choir College for a church music symposium. It is not difficult and should appeal to everyone.

Father, We Praise You, Eugene Butler. SATB, children's choir, keyboard, and optional handbells, Coronet Press of Theodore Presser Co., 392-41690, $1.20 (M-).

Butler has published over 500 compositions. He lives in Kansas and is active as a clinician, church musician, and teacher. His music generally has a bravura character and is in a style that is immediate. In this new anthem, based on the hymn tune Christe Sanctorum, the work opens and closes with hammering, loud Alleluias that set a joyous mood. In contrast, the children's choir sings a straightforward version of the hymn tune alone, and then in the final verse returns to sing a descant. The choir has an unaccompanied verse. This is one of those Butler "concert openers or closers" that will rouse a congregation.

Rejoice, O Pilgrim Throng, Walter Pelz. SATB, 2 trumpets, 2 trombones, optional timpani, organ, and congregation, Summa Productions of AMSI, SP-2009 FS (M -).

Pelz, Professor Emeritus from Bethany College in Kansas, remains an active organist, clinician, and composer. His music always exhibits fine craft. This setting is based on the hymn-tune Marion. It has a festive instrumental introduction and seven stanzas in various arrangements (congregation, women, SATB alone, etc.). The music is not difficult but has a full sound and is effective. Highly recommended to any type of choir.

He Who Dwells in the Shelter of the Most High, Carl Schalk. SATB unaccompanied, Concordia Publishing House, 98-2969, $.85 (M). Schalk is Professor of Music at Con-

Schalk is Professor of Music at Concordia University in Illinois, and active in the national areas of Lutheran music. This new motet is a sensitive, ABA, homophonic setting that uses close harmonies and diatonic lines. The ranges are comfortable for all voices. Very warm music for most solid choirs.

Book Reviews

Kurt Pahlen, The World of the Oratorio: Oratorio, Mass, Requiem, Te Deum, Stabat Mater, and Large Cantatas. Translated by Judith Schaefer. Additional material for the English language edition by Thurston Dox. Amadeus Press, 1990. 397 pp. Musical examples, plates, appendices, glossary, hardbound. ISBN 0-931340-11-X. $39.95. Available from Amadeus Press, 9999 SW Wilshire, Portland, OR 97225. (Shipping and handling: $3.00 for first book, $1.00 each additional.) The term "oratorio" has come to represent a sacred musical narrative or drama performed by solo voices, choruses, and orchestra without costuming, staging or scenery; however, this definition, like the genre itself, developed gradually from practices dating back to

The term "oratorio" has come to represent a sacred musical narrative or drama performed by solo voices, choruses, and orchestra without costuming, staging or scenery; however, this definition, like the genre itself, developed gradually from practices dating back to sixteenth-century Italy. Opera and oratorio were both spawn of the new seconda prattica, which advocated a harmonically-supported monodic style in contrast to the entrenched first practice typified by the polyphony of Palestrina. Both opera and oratorio reflected Renaissance concepts of the classical Greek relationship between music and drama. Through the early years of the seventeenth century, the staged theatricality of opera and the sacred narrative of oratorio became identifiably different in structure and purpose. By the 1650s Rome, Bologna, and Modena were important centers of oratorio production, and works by Giacomo Carissimi and other important composers served as models in France and Germany. The musical and religious requirements of other regions brought diversity to the form's structural and dramatic potential. In time, the forefront of oratorio activity assumed a decidedly international flavor. Handel, Haydn, and Mendelssohn took the form far from its Italianate origins, and Messiah, The Creation, and Elijah became the genre's archetypal examples. The definition of "oratorio" was further stretched by the treatment of secular subjects beginning in the nineteenth century and by the twentieth-century tendency to introduce scenery, action, and/or dance.

Perhaps oratorio's dynamism contributed to Pahlen's failure to find a clear focus or purpose for this book. Writing for "the music lover" actively or passively involved with choral literature, the author provides introductory historical comments that briefly and accurately describe the fluidity of oratorio practices through the years without providing a basic working definition of the genre from which the general listener unschooled in music history can work toward a broader understanding. (Tellingly, the American editors have provided just such a definition on the book's dust jacket.) Furthermore, Pahlen details neither the differences nor the relationships between oratorio and the other choral forms listed in the book's subtitle. Discussion of the blurred narrative/dramatic functions of oratorio and cantata or the ritualistic nature of liturgical music may have clarified the author's choice of forms to be discussed. The end result is a survey of "musical works that combine various vocal elements (solo and chorus) with instrumental accompaniment (primarily organ and orchestra), impart their message without using scenery, require none of the trappings of theatre, may be of either a secular or sacred nature, and possess a certain level of intellectual and musical development." (p. 7) be of either a secular or sacred nature, and possess a certain level of intellectual and musical development." (p. 7) The encyclopedic listings are arranged alphabetically by composer. Some 60 works are discussed in depth and described in a standardized format listing original title, original language, text source, date of composition and first performance, "form," scoring, history, and analysis. These full-length listings include relevant historical background, libretto synopses, and nontechnical musical analyses supplemented by musical examples. Many other works are discussed more briefly, some pieces receiving only passing mention.

mention. When choosing the works represented in this book, Pahlen was influenced by performance frequency, historical importance, and (admirably) subjective advocacy. The size of the literature certainly required selectivity, and many very basic works are well described. But a reader approaching this book either for an overview of the oratorio genre or simply for a survey of important and popular choral works will find puzzling omissions. The Bach cantatas are not here; somehow, these oftperformed, multi-movement, and often intensely dramatic scores did not meet Pahlen's definition of "large cantata." Was Mahler's Symphony No. 8 omitted simply because of its title? Some works are mentioned but receive surprisingly little discussion or analysis: for example, the frequently performed Haydn masses, Gounod's St. Cecilia Mass, Poulenc's Gloria, Prokofiev's Alexander Nevsky. Early composers such as Carissimi and Alessandro Scarlatti, central figures in oratorio's history but admittedly too seldom heard, each have one short paragraph. (Schütz fares slightly better.) The small space allotted to the English oratorio tradition after Mendelssohn's influence may represent performance realities in Germany; however, British and American readers will feel shortchanged. Of Elgar's seminal contributions, only The Dream of Gerontius is given separate analysis (and in scarcely half the space allotted to Liszt's Die Legende von der heiligen Elisabeth!). Walton's Belshazzar's Feast and Tippett's A Child of Our Time are cursorily summarized. Holst's The Hymn of Jesus and Vaughan Williams' Sancta Civitas are mentioned only briefly. Stainer's Crucifixion, Coleridge-Taylor's Hiawatha's Wedding Feast, and all of Parry's output are absent.

all of Parry's output are absent. Happily, music by twentieth-century composers makes up a large part of the listings. Pahlen is clearly attuned to newer repertoire, and he convincingly introduces more recent compositional aims and techniques to his general

Colin Andrews Organist/Lecturer Recording Artist One and Two Organ with Janette Fishell London, England Greenville, North Carolina

Alexander Fiseisky Organist Recording Artist Soloist Moscow Philharmonic Society Moscow, Russia U.S. Tour Fall 1993

Lee Garrett Organist College Organist Professor of Music Lewis and Clark College Portland, Oregon

Larry Palmer Harpsichordist/Organist Professor of Harpsichord and Organ Meadows School of the Arts Southern Methodist University Dallas, Texas

Mary Ann Dodd Organist/Lecturer University Organist Colgate University Hamilton, New York Organ and Soprano with Sheila Allen Texas Christian University Faculty

Michael Gailit Organist/Pianist Piano Faculty Academy of Music Assistant Organist St. Augustine's Church Vienna, Austria U.S. Tour Fall 1993

Eileen Guenther Organist Minister of Music Foundry United Methodist Church Adjunct Professor of Music Wesley Theological Seminary WGMS "The Royal Instrument" Host Washington, D.C.

Sherryl Smith-Babbitt Organist

Dartmouth College Organist Hanover, New Hampshire Organ and Oboe/English Horn with Ann Greenawalt Organ and Percussion with Steve Tavares

Peter DuBois Organist Second Place Winner 1988 AGO National Competition Director of Music/Organist Third Presbyterian Church Rochester, New York

Linda Duckett Organist Professor of Music Department of Music Chair Mankato State University Mankato, Minnesota

Janette Fishell Organist/Lecturer Assistant Professor of Music East Carolina University Greenville, North Carolina Organ and Trumpet with John Rommel Louisville Orchestra Principal Trumpet

Concert Artist Cooperative

Edward Hansen Organist Professor of Organ and Church Music University of Puget Sound Tacoma, Washington

Martha H. Stiehl

Organist/Harpsichordist

Soloist and Continuo Player

Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra Milwaukee Chamber Orchestra Wisconsin Baroque Ensemble Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Eileen Hunt Organist/Lecturer Organist and Music Director Green's Farms Congregational Church Westport, Connecticut Southern CT State University Faculty Organ and Oboc/English Horn with Caesar Storlazzi

Beth Zucchino Organist/Harpsichordist/Pianist One and Two Keyboard with Philip Manwell Soloist and Continuo Player Gruppo d'Amici

Beth Zucchino

Post Office Box 543

Director

94923

Bodega Bay California

707/875-3282

The Los Angeles Baroque Players Wm. Neil Roberts, Harpsichord Frances von Seggern Bach, Viola da Gamba Anthony R. Brazier, Baroque Flute Adriana Zoppo, Baroque Violin

readership. He writes about Penderec-ki's St. Luke Passion:

Let us rather start with what it is that the Let us rather start with what it is that the music lover is accustomed to hearing and will not find here. He must forget the word "melody" in its traditional sense, because at most there are only very short motives that may remain in the mind's ear. Nevertheless, the listener has the feeling that in long passages melodic events can be perceived. At first, however, it seems inconceivable to speak of harmony. Yet there is an idea of simultaneity—and that after all, is what harmony really is, even if it no longer consists of triads or other easily recognized chords. (o. 267) easily recognized chords. (p. 267)

Pahlen then proceeds to specifics about the Passion's non-traditional sound and syntax, encouraging lay listeners to see the connections between their familiar listening experiences and this unfamiliar music.

Thurston Dox, professor of Music at Hartwick College and author of Ameri-can Oratorios and Cantatas (Scarecrow Press), has contributed profiles of 17 American composers and their works. Contemporary musicians such as Adler, Brubeck, Hovhaness, and Schuller are represented in excellent essays, and two nineteenth-century monuments of American oratorio, Parker's Hora No-vissima and Paine's St. Peter, are extensively discussed. One minor quibble: Dr. Dox does not provide complete scoring information.

This is a maddening book that deserves neither recommendation nor dismissal. Vague direction and spotty coverage are balanced by the inclusion of little-known works and clear, informative writing. Whether it is used as a music appreciation text or general ref-erence, The World of the Oratorio will have to be used with supplementary materials for a complete view of history and repertoire.

– Randy L. Neighbarger Durham, NC

New Recordings

A Couple of French Fifths, Vierne and Widor. Frederick Hohman. Sacred Heart Cathedral, Newark, 4/154 Schantz organ. Pro Organo, Box X, Wessington Springs, SD 57382. 1-800/ 336-2224. $15 plus $4 P&H.

When one of my forebears, William Lowdnes Yancey, spoke at the inaugu-ration of Jefferson Davis, he made the comment that "The man and the hour have met," and thus is it with this fine Schantz organ in its splendid acoustical environment, and the talent of Freder-ick Hohman. This is music so beautifully played, one cannot help but sit back and bask in it. I had the distinct feeling that both Vierne and Widor would be pleased with this outstanding performance of each work. When anyone mentions "Widor's Fifth," the oft-heard toccata comes to mind, and since this work is so often mutilated by those who lack insight into the composition, it usually draws an air of resignation. However, with Dr. Hoh-man's control, fine sense of tempi, and his "clean" playing, the work takes on a new luster. In fact, the complete Widor is beautiful. Registration from the softest celeste to the full pleno is always tasteful and appropriate.

The Vierne Fifth Symphony is not as well known to this reviewer as are most of the other Vierne works, but Hohman's penchant for playing transcriptions has added some beautiful colors in his wise choices in registration. Indeed, the Vierne seemed a "cliff-hanger" as this reviewer waited to see the next trick Hohman had up his sleeve. I have known this Schantz organ since the days of the musical ministry of John Rose and Robert McDonald, and in its Rose and Robert McDonald, and in its marvelous surroundings it proves to be a winner. This is the first time I have heard the organ since its "up-dating" and tonal refinishing. It proved to be a handsome bit of work. The organ still retains its warmth and color, but some-how the breadth of the color seems to have hear ordered with testful addihave been enlarged with tasteful addi-tions and revoicing. I do wish any church wanting an idea about acoustics could invest in a visit to Sacred Heart to see what a proper acoustical setting should

Frederick Hohman and Pro Organo earn high marks for this recording. It earn high marks for this recording. It will surely enrich the library of any serious student of the French Romantic School, as well as the "man on the street." This is a "must" purchase for any lover of French organ music. — William F. Brame

Kinston, NC

Jean Guillou, St. Bavo, Haarlem. Fes-tivo, CD, FECD 114. The Organ Lit-erature Foundation, 45 Norfolk Rd., Braintree, MA 02184. $20.00, P&H $2.00.

$2.00. Jean Langlais spielt Franzosische Or-gelmusik in der Abteikirche Mariens-tatt, 1978. LP Motette, Ursina, M 1023, Organ Literature Foundation, $12.00, P&H $2.00.

There are several similarities between these two recordings: both are made from live performances, both per-formers French, both improvise on given themes, both have an interna-tional reputation as performers and composers, and both have the same first names. Beyond that there is no common ground for comparison.

Guillou's program consists exclusively of early music: Mozart's Fantasie K.608, Handel's Concerto no. 10 in D minor, Stanley's Voluntary no. 2 in A minor and Voluntary No. 5 in D minor, Pur-cell's (Clarke) Trumpet Tune, and Scar-lattis Sonatas K.255, 288, 328. There is no indication of when the recording was made nor are there any program notes except the specifications of the 1738 Christiaan Müller organ.

This music is not best suited to Guil-lou's temperament. The fast tempi are recklessly fast with many changes of registration and manuals which are technically impressive but musically very mannered and heavy handed with large reeds and cornets in the pleno. In the Stanley, the many added ornaments sound hysterical at the breakneck speed. The Scarlatti is almost unintelligible and ludicrous with strange 16' reed and mutation combinations with tremolo. His improvisation is typical of his exciting yet repetitive percussive chord clusters and figurations creating bizarre effects that sometimes please but often annoy. French treatises on organ and harp-sichord playing often end with the dictate that the performer should naturally be guided by his innate good taste-the illusive bon gout. M. Guillou has made every effort to follow this advice: adding cadenzas in Handel, ornaments in the English style for the English pieces. But perhaps style is an inborn quality that does not rely solely on mere virtuosity. Fans of Jean Guillou may find this recording, however, very much to their ideals of bon gout.

their ideals of bon gout. The Jean Langlais recording was re-corded on 5 November, 1978 during a live performance on the large four-manual Rieger organ, built in 1969 and 1970 at the Abteikirche Marienstatt in Southern Cormany. The program con-Southern Germany. The program con-sists of two selections from Vierne's Pièces de Fantaisie: Sur le Rhin and Carillon de Westminster, Langlais' In-cantation pour un Jour Saint and Te Deum. The liner notes written in German by the pastor, Father Gabriel Hammer, indicate that the pieces were ex cerpts from a longer program of all French music and that the improvisations, based on Salve Regina and Conditor alme siderum, were given to him just prior to the recital.

The reverberant acoustics and eclec-tic specification are well suited to this music which combine a very rich pleno with clarity of line. In both of Langlais' especially popular pieces, he para-phrases the chants in the manner of Tournemire's chant-based improvisa-tions and pieces. The playing in both his own works and the Vierne also has the grantaneity of a line performance the spontaneity of a live performance and sounds different from his other recordings of these pieces. There is never an attempt to dazzle for its own sake but rather to let the music breathe through the registrations indicated.

The improvisations also have a fresh-ness and spiritual impact despite the number of times he treated these popular chants in improvisations. The improvisation on Salve Regina begins with staccato parallel fourths in an ostinato figure, followed by a fugue and brilliant toccata on the same theme. Langlais always sought the unique qualities of each instrument and in the Conditor alme siderum uses exotic mutations, such as the None %', as well as the zimbelstern. Now that there can be no further Langlais improvisations, this recording is an excellent source for study of his techniques of improvisation. Highly recommended.

- Ann Labounsky

An American Masterpiece: E. & G.G. Hook, Opus 322 (1863), Church of the Immaculate Conception, Boston, Massachusetts. Thomas Murray, organist. AFKA SK-507 (Compact disc, no SPARS code, TT = 74:29). Distributed by BKM Associates, Box 22, Wilming-ton, MA 01887.

Gade: Three Tone Pieces, Op. 22; Bach: Prelude and Fugue in E-flat, BWV 552; Rheinberger: Sonata No. 5 in fsharp minor, Op. 111; Elgar: Sonata in G, Op. 28. In October of 1986, the Jesuit owners of Boston's 1861 Church of the Immaculate Conception, after changing the building's locks to forestall interference, began the demolition of the church's interior without a building permit. Panelling, pews, altar casings, and chandecreated by nineteenth-century liers craftsmen were indiscriminately de-stroyed. Whatever the balance of debate on private property rights versus the responsibility of owners to preserve our rapidly disappearing national architec-tural heritage, the damage inflicted on this irreplaceable historic landmark was a profound loss. The scarred nave is now used for office space. Fortunately, the Hook organ in the gallery escaped destruction.

ORGAN AND CHORAL MUSIC recorded in Britain's Historic Cathedrals, Churches, and Schools by Abbey of Oxford. FREE Catalog from: Bradford Consultants, P.O. Box 4020, Alameda, CA 94501.

Hook's opus 322, installed in 1863, was originally a three-manual organ of forty-seven stops. In 1902 Hook and Hastings rebuilt the instrument, now made up of 75 ranks over four manuals and pedal. The organ has robust, wideand pedal. The organ has robust, whee-scale foundation stops (complete with 15 ranks of mixtures on the Great), bracing reeds, colorful flutes, and a 32-foot Pedal Bourdon. This disc docu-ments the rich, transparent sound of a bits pincteentury. A merican mas late nineteenth-century American mas-terpiece and illustrates the need to preserve this singular instrument from future insult.

These fine-sounding performances come from (presumably analog) record-ing sessions dating back to the mid 1970s. All except one had been previ-ously released: the Rheinberger on an earlier AFKA offering, the Elgar and Gade by Sheffield Town Hall Records. (Dare we hope for the silver-disc rein-carnation of Mr. Murray's Mendelssohn at Jamaica Plain from Sheffield Town Hall?)

The contrapuntal textures of the Gade, Rheinberger and Elgar selec-tions (more or less contemporary with the Hook) are particularly well-suited to the instrument. Elgars Sonata, an important work too-seldom played, re-ceives an especially persuasive reading. If the Hook's sounds are not quite what we are used to hearing in this piece, the transatlantic influence of England's Victorian organ builders on their American colleagues still make the Immacu-late Conception organ a particularly appropriate medium. A straight-ahead performance of the St. Anne Prelude and Fugue reconfirms the instrument's suitability in contrapuntal music of all periods. This disc is an excellent docu-ment of an organ we hope to have with us for a very long time.

Works of Frank Speller. Frank Speller, organ, with the University of Texas Concert Chorale conducted by Patrick Gardner. Albany Records TROY049 (Compact disc, DDD, TT=73:30). Al-bany Records U.S., Box 5011, Albany, NY 12205.

Organ music: Toccata, "The Majesty of Christ;" Chorale Preludes: Veni creator spiritus, Saint's Delight/Land of Rest, Lasst uns erfreuen, King's Weston; Passacaglia; Prelude and Fugue in A-flat, Ecumenical; Psalm 19; Four Biblical Dances; Te Deum. Choral Music: Mass of Saint Louis; Gloria Patri; Hail Mary.

Meeting a new musical personality is a profound pleasure, and for listeners unfamiliar with Frank Speller this disc offers just that opportunity. Dr. Speller, a faculty member at the University of Texas at Austin, writes in a conservative style. (Musical conservatism, like polit-ical liberalism, is not necessarily the disgraceful condition some purveyors of "conventional wisdom" would have us think.) Much of this music grows from his sense of historical connection and willingness to acknowledge personal in-fluences. It is easy to say these pieces sound like other composers works. De-scribing how Dr. Speller makes these sounds-his own is harder, but there is always a sense of the individual behind the notes.

The virtuosic Toccata, "The Majesty of Christ," dedicated to the memory of Jeanne Demessieux, brings Langlais and his compatriots to mind. Indeed, the composer, who studied with De-messieux, writes in the disc's notes that the piece "contains some of her 'sounds'." While Dr. Speller's musical sympathies are primarily French, other influences are apparent. The harmonic openness and jazz-related rhythms as-sociated with American composers of the 1930s and '40s can be heard in Veni Creator Spiritus and Lasst uns erfreuen. King's Weston retains its English modality. Some of the compositions have specific models: the Passacaglia (the only work on the disc which, for this re-viewer, fails to rise above efficiency) connects with Bach, while Psalm 19 sets a quotation from the 17th-century composer John Munday in a modern con-text. Dr. Speller also uses thematic symbolism and chant melodies to emphasize the religious quality in all his music. These techniques are part of the perceptive and evocative depiction of scripture passages in Four Biblical Dances Dances. The choral works, settings of English texts for the Catholic liturgy, reflect Dr. Speller's opinion that music for a relig-ious service "should not draw undue attention to itself." These settings are direct and atmospheric, but they do not share the opulence of the organ music. The Mass of Saint Louis may make The Mass of Saint Louis may make some listeners think in turn of Duruflé's impressionistic harmonies or Britten's Missa Brevis. Hail Mary is a paradoxical combination of remote mystery and warmth.

The composer's organ performances must be considered definitive. The best moments capture an improvisational excitement. The large Dutch-inspired Visser-Rowland organ at Bates Recital Hall (the University of Texas, Austin) impresses in this recording with a cohesive ensemble rather than individual colors or brute strength. Patrick Gard-ner leads the University of Texas Concert Chorale in disciplined, musical performances. Dr. Speller may not press into uncharted compositional territory, but he explores a wide range of expression to communicate his belief in music's "capacity to bring inner richness and harmony.

-Randy L. Neighbarger Durham, NC

Bach and the Italian Influence. Kim-berly Marshall, playing the Charles Fisk organ at Stanford University Memorial Church. Innovative Music Pro-ductions PCD 965. Allegro Imports, 3434 S.E. Milwaukie, Portland, OR 97202. 503/232-4213.

Kimberly Marshall, professor of organ at Stanford, has put together an imaginative program of works demon-strating Bach's contact with and assimilation of Italian compositional techordered in a symmetrical pattern that would have pleased Bach. The program opens and closes with the two largest works: the Toccata and Fugue in F major (BWV 540), and the Toccata and Fugue in F major in D minor (BWV 538, "Dorian"). Mov-ing inward, there are two concertos: in D minor (BWV 596, after Vivaldi), and in G major (BWV 592, after Ernst). At the center is a group of smaller works: four pieces from Frescobaldi's Fiori Mu-sicali and Bach's Canzona (BWV 588) and Fugue in B minor (BWV 579, after Corelli).

Both toccatas are well played, though Both toccatas are well played, though the F-major does not quite reach the very high level of the D-minor. The "Dorian" has exciting rhythmic energy, with pacing and shaping of the repet tive motive that show clear understand-ing of the piece's structure and har-monic progression. This is also the goal in the F-major, but it sometimes falls into an unshaped series of sixteenth notes. Likewise, the D-minor fugue is the stronger of the two. It is played with clearly articulated counterpoint and an architectural sense that sustains the piece from beginning to end. The remaining works may be divided into those which imitate strings (the concertos and the "Corelli" fugue) and those which imitate winds. Marshall is those which imitate winds. Marshall is less successful in the former due to articulation which is more legato than baroque string playing. The pedal in these pieces is never as clear as the manuals, and also somewhat behind. That said, many technical and musical difficulties are handled well in solid performances. performances.

The jewels of this disk are the Canzona and the Frescobaldi set. Marshall gives a stylish imitation of a consort of wind instruments, capturing the spirit of a fine chamber ensemble with inter-esting registrations. The mean-tone temperament adds spice to the chro-

Excellent notes are provided, ex-plaining both the overall intent of the disk and the individual pieces. There is, however, no stop list for the organ.

Mozart and the Organ. Joan Lippin-cott, playing the Charles Fisk organ at Old West Church, Boston. Gothic G 49051. Gothic Records, P.O. Box 1576, Tustin, CA 92681.

The Fisk organ at Old West Church is a perfect choice for this Mozart program. Its single stops, particularly the various flutes, have a vocal quality well suited to this music, and the brilliant ensemble sound retains clarity without harshness.

without harsnness. The three standard Mozart organ pieces (K. 594, 608, and 616) frame a group of smaller works with varying connections to the organ. Of these, the Fugue in G minor (K. 375e) has the closest connection as it was identified closest connection, as it was identified as an organ piece in an early edition. The famous Adagio for glass harmonica (K. 617a) is often played on organ, here on a beautiful Stopt Diapason. Two pieces in baroque style work well on the organ (Suite in C major, K. 385i; Gigue in G major, K. 574). Finally, an Adagio and Rondo (K. 617), originally a chamber work, which Mozart may have transcribed for mechanical organ, is included.

Of the smaller works, the Rondo from K. 617 reveals the best playing, a de-lightful performance with a little bounce and nice variety in registration. For contrast, the serious counterpoint of the G-minor Fugue is played with a broader legato. These two characteris-tics of Lippincott's playing also distin-guish the three larger works. The F-major Andante (K. 616) is played with galant simplicity, with gen-tle whete at transitional moments.

tle rubato at transitional moments. A similar style is found in the slow movement of the F-minor Fantasia (K. 608). The dotted-rhythm passages and the fugues are played solidly on big regisflaw in this performance, also found in some of the other pieces, is the occa-sional rhythmic glitch that seems to be the result of some unsteadiness.

Great Romantic Organ Music. John Scott Whiteley, at York Minster. York Ambisonic CD 101. Brendan Hearne/ York Ambisonic, P.O. Box 66, Lancas-ter, England LA2 6HS, (0524) 823020. Tournemire: Improvisation on the Te Deume Market Scherzer, Mulet

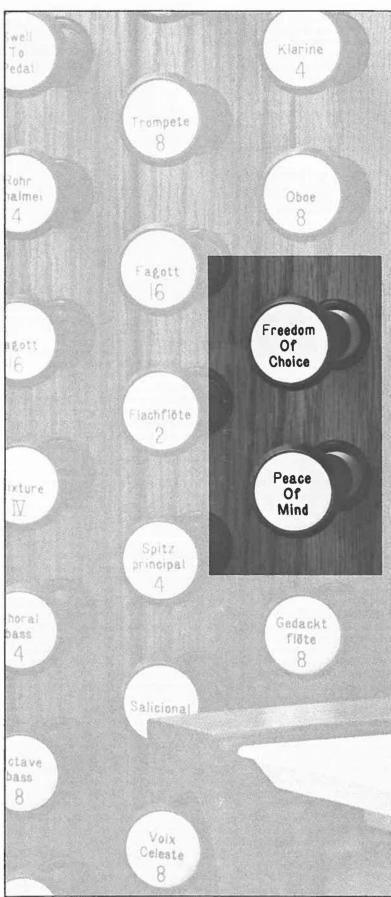

Deum; Jongen: Menuet-Scherzo; Mulet:

Tu es Petra; Dupré: Prelude and Fugue in G minor, Op. 7, No. 3; R. Strauss: Hochzeitspräludium; Karg-Elert: Pastel in B major, Op. 92, No. 1; Brahms: O Gott, du frommer Gott; Liszt: Prelude and Fugue on B-A-C-H (1870 version). Recording engineers have done a superb job in capturing the resonance of York Minster, while at the same time allowing most of the details to be clearly heard. This combination shows to ad-vantage John Scott Whiteley's clean technique and dramatic use of the spacious acoustic, particularly in fiery per-formances of the Tournemire and Liszt.

In pieces like the Liszt and the Dupré Prelude, Whiteley plays all of the six-teenth notes accurately, but they do not stand out. They are, as intended, just the figuration in a larger harmonic scheme. A rock-like steadiness and control mask the underlying intensity of the Dupré and Mulet, though one might wish for the excitement to be more obvious.

The less familiar pieces prove to be most interesting. Whiteley's registra-tions are colorful and effective. His sense of pacing holds together such a

Lou may not find these two stops in an organ's specification, but the finest organ builders have always provided them. Today, no builder provides them as well as the Allen Organ Company.

Freedom of choice ensures satisfaction of your exact tastes and needs. Allen is the only digital organ builder that will design a custom organ to your specification.

Peace of mind comes from knowing that your organ will last. You need a builder with the highest quality standards and corporate stability. Allen quality is legendary and Allen has been cited by independent business publications as one of the best-managed and financially sound companies of any kind.

For more than 50 years, Allen has continued the fine traditions of organ building through twentieth century techniques. Submit your specification te Allen. See how Allen's unique abilities can add two important items to your stoplist:

FREEDOM OF CHOICE and PEACE OF MIND. organs lacungie, PA 18062-0036 15-966-2202

multi-sectional piece as the Karg- Elert Pastel. Richard Strauss' prelude for his son's wedding is a delightful work, built as a large crescendo and decrescendo. with a bit of a Rosenkavalier mood.

The only unconvincing performance is that of the Brahms chorale prelude. Whiteley uses a rubato, not found in the other pieces, which stretches the anacrusis and delays the downbeat. This can be effective if used sparingly, but here it is so consistent that the resulting stop-and-start style replaces the piece's classical character with a feeling of onthe-spot improvisation.

-Lee Tepley Old Dominion University Norfolk, VA

New Organ Music

Organ and instrument Canon in D "The Celebrated Canon,"

Johann Pachelbel, arr. and edited for organ and flute by S. Drummond Wolff. Concordia 97-6106. $4.50.

Gloria, Antonio Vivaldi, edited and arranged for organ and brass quintet by S. Dummond Wolff. Concordia 97-6050. $5.00.

Well, do we really need another edi-tion of Pachelbel's Canon or Vivaldi's Gloria? Given the popularity of these pieces in the church today, apparently S. Drummond Wolff and Concordia Publishing House think so. They may be right. However, the phrase "it loses a lot in the translation" comes to mind as one looks at these pieces. Many think the Pachelbel Canon suffers in any tran-scription, because the richness of the orchestration (as well as the feeling for a "canon") is lost. The Vivaldi Gloria also suffers in this edition because the very recognizable opening motive of octaves is transformed into different notes and rhythms from the original. The tremolo 32nd notes are now re-placed by repeated eighth notes, and the effect of the original is lost.

One could make the case that the music is good enough to survive a translation into any medium of performance. However, one could also be guided by the axiom to "leave well enough alone.

Variset on "Kremser" for 2 B-flat trumpets, horn in F, 2 trombones, timpani and organ, arr. Walter W. Schurr. AMSI B-25. Score and set of parts $15.00.

Here is a nice setting of the familiar hanksgiving hymn, "We Gather To-Thanksgiving hymn, "We Gather To-gether," set for full brass quintet, tim-pani and organ. This would be a fine setting for a festive Thanksgiving service, and could be used with the singing of the hymn by the congregation as well. The fullness of the sonority helps the solidness of the writing, and there is enough variety in the texture to keep the piece interesting throughout.

Organ music

Organ music Organists' Folio, edited by Bryan Hes-ford. Fentone. Volume 1: #542, $10.25. Volume 2: #F566, $12.00. Theodore Presser Company, sole selling agent. The contents of volume 1 include "Coronation March" from Le Prophéte by Meyerbeer, "Sortie" by Franck, and "Ave Maria" by Schubert. Volume 2 contains "Ave Maria" by Bach/Gounod, "Grand Choeur" by Salome and "Trip-tyque" (Offertoire, Verset and Sortie) by Boëllmann. Many of these pieces are transcriptions from works written for transcriptions from works written for another medium, so their success on the organ depends greatly on several factors. The two "Ave Marias" are, of course, originally vocal solos. Bryan Hesford has given us many transcrip-tions in recent publications. On the one hand, it makes good music written for hand, it makes good music written for other forces available to the organist. On the other hand, much may be lost in the change of texture from the origi-nal voices or instruments to the organ. With proper care and preparation by the performer, these pieces should be quite successful for service or recital use. Some of the marches would be effective for church processionals or weddings.

Eight Chorale Preludes for Organ. Ca-thedral Music Press MB 94595. $8.95.

The contents of this volume include four hymn settings by Eugene Hill (St. Columba, St. Botolph, Praise My Soul and Hyfrydol), one by Gwilym J. Bevan (Dunfermline), one by Glenn Kruspe (Rockingham) and two by Violet Archer (Variations on "Aberystwyth" and Im-provisation on "Veni Creator"). Apparently, from the copyright information, this music was published earlier by Waterloo Music Co. Ltd. and has been reissued in this new collection.

The first six pieces utilize similar compositional devices. They are short and accessible pieces of moderate difficulty which present the hymn tunes in a straightforward manner. Only occasionally is there a brief modulation for variety. Interludes between phrases of the chorale melody are frequent. The best of these six may be the setting of Hyfrydol by Hill, which bears some similarity to the setting of the same hymn by Vaughan Williams.

The last two pieces, by Violet Archer, are quite different from the first six. The setting of Aberystwyth is an interesting partita on the hymn tune, with episodes in the Phrygian mode, a pedal cadenza, and variety from verse to verse. Improvisation on "Veni Creator" is less interesting. There are some fine moments, which seem to capture the "spirit" of the text, but the repetitive motives get tiresome after the first page.

Hymn Preludes for the Church Year, arr. by John Leavitt. Augsburg-For-tress 11-10134. $6.00

John Leavitt has given us in this volume thirteen settings of organ tunes appropriate for all seasons of the church year. Included are settings of the tunes Ein feste Burg, Komm, Gott Schoepfer, Gaudeamus Pariter, Tempus Adest Flo-ridum, Gelobt sei Gott, Chesterfield, In Babilone, Ellacombe, Antioch, Na-rodil se Kristus Pan, Wie schoen leuch-tet, Divinum Mysterium and O Mein Jesu, Ich muss sterben. The hymn tunes are arranged in the order in which they would appear during the Christian year.

The composer uses many different writing styles, so there is variety from piece to piece. However, owing to the brevity of each piece, occasionally one would like to hear the chosen writing style spin itself out a bit longer. Others, seemingly grasping for straws of the extremes of styles, are not finished soon enough (the "hoe-down" setting of Wie schoen leuchtet is a particularly poor example). However, Chesterfield and Gaudeamus Pariter are fine settings. One may find a few useful pieces in this collection.

Seven Seasonal Reflections on the Li-turgical Year, Peter Pindar Stearns. Harold Flammer HF-5178. $8.50.

Eight Preludes on Evening Hymns, Pe-ter Pindar Stearns. Harold Flammer

HF-5185. $8.50. Eight Hymn Preludes for Morning Wor-ship, Peter Pindar Stearns. Harold Flammer HF-5186. $8.50 Seven Seasonal Reflections begins with a "Composer's Foreword" which with a composer's roleword which describes the purpose of the pieces, and contains explanatory notes on each piece which can be added to Sunday leaflets. The pieces are based on Ad-vent, Christmas, Epiphany, Lent, Eas-ter, Ascension and Pentecost. These reflections are written in an adventuresome style, and capture a real sense of the spirit of each of these major seasons of the church year. The expectations of Advent, the promise of Epiphany, the penitence of Lent, the gentleness of Ascension, and the joy of Christmas, Easter and Pentecost are presented here with fresh and interesting ideas of melodic, harmonic and rhythmic con-struction. These pieces will serve as an interesting commentary for services during these seasons, and may help listeners focus on aspects of these seasons that have not otherwise been expressed. These are descriptive pieces, and highly recommended for your consideration.

The sixteen preludes on evening and morning hymns are settings of the fol-lowing hymn tunes: St. Clement, Ar Hyd y Nos, Evening Prayer, Eventide, O Lux Beata Trinitas, Chautauqua, Te Lucis, Merrial, Christe Sanctorum, Bunessan, Laudes Domini, Verbum Su-pernum Prodiens, Ratisbon, Kendron [or Kedron?], Morning Song and Morn-ing Hymn. The composer uses a style familiar to us from eleven other collections of hymn preludes appropriate to all seasons and occasions of the church year. His writing style is accessible to both player and listener. Yet this music does not rely solely on old formulas, but is constructed following the model of good improvisational techniques, with frequent use of canons. The melodies of the hymn tunes also appear in several keys to add interest to the accompaniment. Mr. Stearns continues to provide an interesting look at traditional hymn tunes, but the most interesting writing may be in those pieces based on plain-song melodies. These two collections represent the completion of a major series of organ collections based on hymn tunes for use throughout the church year, and will be useful to the church organist in need of resources for these many hymn tunes.

Intonations & Harmonizations, V. Earle Copes. Selah Publishing Co. 160-722. $6.50.

This publication is volume two of a three-volume set entitled Hymn Into-nations, Preludes and Free Harmonizations. There are intonations and/or harmonizations of twenty-two familiar hymn tunes. Owing to the thin texture of the harmonic writing, these harmo-nizations would be better suited for middle verses or alternatim verses rather than final verses. There is also no independent pedal part, so they could be played on the piano.

– Dennis Schmidt, DMA St. Paul's School Concord, NH

Institute for Music and Liturgy

St. Lawrence Center for Liturgical Music Studies St. Lawrence Catholic Campus Center University of Kansas

Left to right top row: Sally Hudnall, program coordinator; Jane Scharding, Courtney Reid-King, board members; Sr. Delores Dufner, OSB, faculty; bottom row: Arch-bishop Ignatius Strecker; Dr. Fred Moleck, faculty; Fr. Vincent Krische, director, St. Lawrence Center; Dr. Michael Bauer, Fr. Robert Everard, Dr. Patrick Molloy, faculty; Mr. Lynn Trapp, executive director.

Seventy Roman Catholic church musicians gathered for the first Institute for Music and Liturgy at the St. Lawrence Catholic Campus Center, Univer-sity of Kansas, June 14–18. The institute was the first event sponsored by the St. Lawrence Center for Liturgical Music Studies, an institution named by Executive Director Lynn Trapp and a Board of Directors headed by Dr. Fred Mo-leck. Trapp is Director of Chapel Music and Organist at St. Lawrence Center, where he directs a collegiate chapel music program which includes a Cantor School and the St. Lawrence Collegiate Choir, a chapel choir of 50 members, which performs at St. Lawrence Center and on tour.

The mission of the St. Lawrence Center for Liturgical Music Studies is to "provide resources for liturgical musicians in an on-going endeavor to im-prove the quality of musical liturgy in the American Church." Funding for the first institute was provided by the Ro-man Catholic Archdiocese of Kansas City and its Archbishop, the Most Reverend Ignatius Strecker. A major lecture provided the center-piece of each day. The institute schedule included presentations ranging from "Philosophy of Church Music," to "Mu-sical and Textual Integrity," and "Lit-urgy of the Hours in the Parish." Choral singing and repertoire was a common as thread throughout the institute, as well as the celebration of Lauds and Vespers, during which some of the prepared music was sung.

The choral experience was led by Dr. Moleck and Mr. Trapp. Moleck is the editor of GIA Quarterly and a frequent workshop leader. Among the choral repertoire presented were some of Trapp's ertoire presented were some of Trapps compositions published by Morning Star, as well as anthems by Gibbons, Elgar, Howells, Schalk, Haydn, Mozart, Charles Wood, Morley, and some con-temporary composers of liturgical mu-sic. Choral sessions and liturgies were held in the St. Lawrence Chapel. The Andover organ, located on the west wall, served as the main instrument during the week, and was featured in a during the week, and was featured in a hymn festival led by Trapp on the last evening. Music for each day's Lauds and Vespers ranged from Haugen's Psalm 63 "O God, I Seek You," to Vermulst's setting of the 150th Psalm, to responses from the 1940 Episcopal Hymnal. Compositions by Hughes, Isele, Joncas, and Trapp provided the group with various psalm formats, some with harmonized refrains and psalm tones for the assem-bly. The Wood and Morley settings of the Magnificat were sung by the assembly to enhance Vespers. Trapp per-formed a major organ work to conclude each morning's Office, featuring the instrument in a solo capacity. Evening events included a harpsichord recital by Dr. Marie Rubis, graduate of University of Kansas, a hymn festival which involved members of the St. Lawrence Collegiate Choir, a dis-Lawrence Conegrate Choir, a dis-cussion on art and environment issues led by Rev. Robert Everard of the Center's staff, and a comedy program presented by the faculty called "The Triumph of Bad Taste."

Other faculty presentations were even by Sr. Delores Dufner, OSB, on Musical and Textual Integrity" which included guidelines for the selection of hymn texts. She also presented some of her own published texts and shared compositional techniques. Dr. Michael Bauer, Professor of Organ and Church Music at the University of Kansas, gave a lecture on the "Philosophy of Church Music." Moleck led an evening pres-entation about liturgical music planning and Dr. Patrick Mullay afford leatures entation about inturgical music planning and Dr. Patrick Malloy offered lectures on "Musical Liturgy—Its Importance in the Faith Community," "Liturgical Ministries," and "Liturgy of the Hours in the Parish." Malloy also served as liturgy coordinator for the week, train-ing participants in liturgical ministring ing participants in liturgical ministries such as presiding. Pacing of the institute was well balanced with enough time for learning and sharing with colleagues. This institute receives high marks in accomplishing its goals and providing an annual gathering for those who wish to expand their knowledge and develop their skills in liturgical music ministry for the Roman Catholic Church. The 1993 Insti-tute, "Music and the Word," will be held June 27–July 1 at St. Lawrence Catholic Campus Center.

– Jane Scharding Memphis, TN Member, Board of Directors St. Lawrence Center for Liturgical Music Studies

Summer Institute for French Organ Studies 1992 by William D. Gudger

SIFOS 1992: Marilou Kratzenstein, Chappy Stowe, David Heller, Ed Godshall, Bill Gudger, Susan Klotzbach, Gary Marks, Gene Bedient

The 1782 F.-H. Clicquot organ in Souvigny-en-Bourbonnais and the 1880 Cavaillé-Coll at St-François-des-Sales, Cavaillé-Coll at St-François-des-Sales, Lyon, were again the sites of two weeks of intensive work for the 1992 partici-pants in Gene Bedient's and Jesse Esch-bach's Summer Institute for French Organ Studies the second half of July. This year's group included Edward Godshall (Chevy Chase, MD), William D. Gudger (Charleston, SC), David A. Heller (San Antonio, TX; Souvigny only), Susan Klotzbach (Kenosha, WI), Marilou Kratzenstein (Cedar Falls, IA), Gary A. Marks (San Antonio, TX), and John Chappell Stowe (Madison, WI).

John Chappell Stowe (Madison, WI). As has been reported in these pages about previous conferences, this one was no exception with the wonderful side benefits of French cuisine and culture in two contrasting locationsthe small town of Souvigny in the central French Department of Allier, with its medieval church full of tombs of the medieval church tull of tombs of the Bourbons; and Lyon, France's second largest city, replete with restaurants, cable cars up to the Fouvier above the Old City, and churches, shops, and streets for exploring. Gene Bedient organized the two weeks, and his lectures about organ construction, restoration, and temper-ament were insightful and informative ament were insightful and informative. We all emerged with a greater under-standing of both 18th- and 19th-century French organs, and particularly the conof stoplists and pipe scalings, in terms of stoplists and pipe scalings. Informal discussions were lively, too, helping us all to put into perspective the historic organ movement and its relation to the materialities of argume in churches and practicalities of organs in churches and on campuses

Henri DeLorme, organist at Souvi-gny and former student of Michel Cha-puis, took charge of demonstrating and coaching the first week. Of particular interest was his demonstration of late 18th-century literature, the music played on the Clicquot when it was new. DeLorme's long experience with the instrument was invaluable when adapting the textbook registrations we all knew from Fenner Douglass's book to this special instrument. The Clicquot untouched as rumored—the pitch has been lowered about a half-step to near A = 440, which entailed not only the shortening of the flues, but also the moving of the reeds all down one key. The thrilling sound of the Grand jeux thundering down the long, tall but rel-atively narrow nave of this 11th-15th century church is something everyone should experience in person. The orig-inal pedalboard (in person the keys look even smaller than the familiar illustra-tion in Dom Bedos) proved to be very easy to manage, another sign that most Americans are hung up on pedalboard

DECEMBER, 1992

has a grand sound, but it's not quite as design. The week at Souvigny ended with a recital attended by what appeared to be the entire town. We played music of Marchand, Boyvin, de Grigny, D'Aquin, Couperin, Dandrieu, and Guilain—literature two to three gener-ations old by the time this organ was installed installed

The Lyon week took us to the imposing 19th-century church of St-Françoisdes-Sales, where Widor's father was organist, which contains a 44-stop, three-manual Cavaillé-Coll from 1880. Its condition is good, and there never have been any major changes to the organ. The playing mechanism is per-haps a little more difficult than when new, but the three Barker machines do their magic; full organ is two handfuls, but responsive and quite manageable. Jesse Eschbach led us through the literature the second week. His com-mand of the history of French organ music in the 19th and 20th centuries enabled us to see the overall trends in Cavaillé-Coll's development, without losing sight of the special nature of single instruments. Differences re-sulted as to whether the instrument was new or a partial rebuild, the position of the Positif (on the gallery rail, or inside the main case), as well as the size of the project. Thus the Positif can be a second Grand-Orgue (as in Franck's instrument at Ste-Clotilde) or a smaller accompanimental division (as at Lyon). composition of mixtures was thoroughly covered. Besides the legendary character of the Cavaillé-Coll reeds, which had more in common with the instruments from Clicquot's period than I had imagined, the special (and essential) sound of the "big four" Grand orgue eight-foot foundations became essen-tial. Montre, Bourdon, Flûte harmo-nique, and Salicional (or Viole de Gambe) appear in stoplists of all sizes; and of course here again was a connection to the 18th century, where Montre and Bourdon are basic. Again a special feature of these organs-the Pédales de

Bill Gudger at the F.-H. Clicquot organ at Souvigny

14th International Organ Institute and

Participants in 14th Annual Institute of Church Music

The University of Michigan's 14th International Organ Institute and Church Music Institute were held July 17 in Ann Arbor.

The Organ Institute featured guest lecturers Linton Powell, Barbara Owen, Rose Kirn, Anita Werling, Felix Frie-drich, Robert Glasgow and Susan Tattershall. Session topics included Span-ish organ music, the Leipzig Chorales of J.S. Bach, 19th-century French Sym-phonists, the influence of English organs on American organ building and organ restoration. The Church Music Institute featured guest lecturers James Kibbie, Michele Johns, John Hammersma, Phillip Bur-gess, and Margaret Thomsen. Session topics included the Leipzig Chorales of Bach, hymn improvisation techniques, the artistic mediums of the Baroque period, church administration and the church musician and the computer. Doctoral candidate Karl Schrock, student of James Kibbie, presented a dissertation recital consisting of music of César Franck. Doctoral candidates

James Kibbie, Michele Johns, Phillip Burgess

Ray McClellan and Richard Schneider, both students of Marilyn Mason, pre-Sented respective dissertation recipies Each played music of J.S. Bach. The diversity of subject topics al-lowed every participant to find a partic-ular area of interest, making these In-stitutes a most enjoyable two-week period period

-Melody Meadows and James Spirup

University of Michigan Church Music Institute

Combinaison-took a bit of practice but by the end of the week we all felt right at home. All of these discussions were supplemented with a thorough inspection of the interior of the St-François organ with Gene Bedient; its interior craftsmanship in non-essential details is as fine as its overall sound. The Barker machines were of real interest, especially with Bedient being one of a handful of modern builders who have used the device. Eschbach concluded the week with surveys of the French ap-proach to playing and teaching, many of which principles he put to good use in coaching us on our own literature. The final recital that week, attended by almost one hundred people (a record for the conference in Lyon), included music of Duruflé, Dupré, Guilmant, Franck, Vierne, and Widor. Chappy Stowe's performance of the last three movements of the Widor Eighth Symphony in a church with real Widor connections was not only a special mu-sical treat but also revealed this work to be of a higher quality than the bare notes on the page suggest. It came to life when the right sounds were available.

The large demands of time organizing this conference have forced Bedient and Eschbach to announce that SIFOS 1993 will likely be the last. I hope that every organist somehow gets a chance to hear and play these special instruments in person.

Why not get Organized?

T hroughout the world the organ has been long and justly esteemed as a perfect solo instrument and a pleasing form of accompaniment for hymns and anthems. Its tertiary function, however-still not sufficiently well represented in our churches-is even less exploited in our concert halls which, all too often organless, invariably end up by disappointing our eyes, ears and minds. Previous generations of performers, at least in Italy, would have roundly deplored such a state of affairs.

The Italians knew that any moder-ately busy organist could quickly amass a small fortune. But a much larger one a small fortune. But a much larger one could be built up by regularly renting out organs of the portative (rigabello) or positive type, as can be proved by studying account-books of the larger ecclesiastical establishments or the scuole grande—those ancient confra-ternitites which provided countless and viable excuses for musical celebrations all over the city all over the city.

What then was this tertiary use of the organ, or organs? When the Japathe organ, or organs? When the Japa-nese ambassadors went in procession with the Doge and Signory to the Ba-silica of St. Mark on the Feast of St. Peter and St. Paul, 29 June 1585, they heard a Mass for four choirs (very probably including Andrea Gabrielis Gloria a 16) supported by "un organo portatile" so that "the two noble [gallery organs] and the other musical instruorgans] and the other musical instru-ments would make the harmony more magnificent.

Early vestiges of accounts for the Feast of San Rocco seem to begin in 1595, for handsome fees were paid in that year to Giovanni Gabrieli and his ensemble in addition to the cost of the Denis Stevens has been a resident of Santa Barbara since 1974. His earlier career em-braced that of a conductor, violinist, author, and teacher. In 1961 he founded the Acca-demia Monteverdiana, of which he is Presi-dent, and with them gave concerts at the music festivals of Bath, Bordeaux, Edin-burgh, Lisbon, London, Lucerne, Salzburg, and Windsor. The ensemble has made some 75 recordings as well as many broadcasts and TV programs throughout the world. At present Dr. Stevens-a consultant in and TV programs throughout the world. At present Dr. Stevens—a consultant in musicology—is working on several books and editions. His publications include "A History of Song," "Tudor Church Music," "The Let-ters of Claudio Monteverdi," "The Joy of Ornamentation," and editions of music rang-ing from the twelfth century through the nineteenth. He has held two Distinguished Visiting Professorships, and was for many years Professor of Musicology at Columbia University. An Honorary Member of the Royal Academy of Music in London and a member of the Worshipful Company of Mu-sicians, he was made a Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire in 1984. in 1984.

in 1984. His editions of organ music include "The Mulliner Book" (1951), "Altenglische Orgel-musik" (1953), Thomas Tallis (1953), Tomkins: Three Voluntaries (1959), Roseingrave: Or-gan and Harpsichord Music (1964), Early Tudor Organ Music: The Mass (1969).

organs rented. Thomas Coryate, an eccentric English traveller who walked to Venice all the way across Europe in 1608, left a remarkable account of the festivities in honor of the plague-protecting saint. A three-hour performance in the Scuola provided vocal and instru-mental music of surpassing excellence, during which every time that every severall musicke played, the Organs, whereof there are seven faire paire in that room, standing al in a rowe together, plaied with them.²

Sure enough, the account books bear him out.³ It was Coryate who observed that Venice as a whole contained "143 paire of organs," a reasonably accurate estimate in view of Sansovino's list of churches and organs in the six principal districts, which gives a total of 121 churches and 144 organs.⁴ When Monteverdi came to Venice to

When Monteverdi came to Venice to have his audition with the Procurators on 22 August 1613, porters were paid for moving a couple of organs to and from the island of San Giorgio Mag-giore, where Palladio's masterpiece, only recently completed by Scamozzi, resounded to a performance of the six-part Mass "In illo tempore" published in 1610—with an organ part—for Feasts of the Blessed Virgin.⁵

The master (who was not an organist) had two distinguished students and followers in the city: Francesco Cavalli, mainly concerned with opera but by no means insignificant as a church musi-cian, and Giovanni Rovetta who eventually succeeded Monteverdi at St. Mark's. Both were organists, and they occasionally worked together, as on 13 December 1647. The occasion was Vespers of the Immaculate Conception at another fine Palladio Church, San Francesco della Vigna, somewhat off the tourist track now that the more recent municipal gasworks has been built. There were three positive organs in the church, one played by Rovetta (who had composed the music) and another by Cavalli, his friend and colleague. A letter written by a German student mentions that between the psalms the musicians always performed a sonata or a motet, so that role of the organ—in this as in all the previous instances was that of a continuo instrument.

For some reason unknown to me the harpsichord has always been preferred to the organ when the question of continuo arises. Melodic instruments such as the cello, gamba, double-bass, bassoon, lute and theorbo have gener-ously attempted to cover its plucked and denuded carapace, possibly in the mistaken belief that they can vary its limited tone-color and sustain its weak and avaecemt bass notes. Yet the organ and evanescent bass notes. Yet the organ is all too often ruled out, even when the merest glance at literary, documentary or pictorial evidence dictates otherwise. A letter such as Hainlein's mentioning the true role of the organ, an account book from San Rocco about the number of organs at his festival on 16 August, an illustration such as this one from the Museo Correr—showing the organ gal-lery in the Ospedale della Pietà where Vivaldi and others used to give con-certs—all these should compel us to realize that the realization of most fig-ured basses in solo concertos, concerto grossi and church sonatas fully deserves the noble sonority of the organ. The almost total lack of this essential sonority can be felt like a glacial glove when you play any compact disc or cassette of an 18th-century instrumen-tal work. All that can be heard, in general, are the unbalanced, unwieldy and unwelded sounds of disparate strings and woodwind, trilling away out an a lamentable limb grown by some half-baked musicologist with his head in the wrong book, just as surely as the conductor has his head in an irrelevant score. They have made up their minds: don't bother them with the evidence!

Organ gallery, Ospedale della Pietà, Venice, from G. Grevenbroch: Gli abiti de Veneziani di quasi ogni età . . . Museo Correr, Venice, Gradenigo Dolfin 191, coll. 49.

don't bother them with the evidence! Yet evidence there is by the cartload. Try, for restful bedside reading, Claudio Sartori's two-volume catalog of Italian instrumental music from its begininngs in 1517 up to the year 1700.⁷ Only the latter part demands our attention, con-cerned as we are with the development of the continuo. Starting no further back than 1647, the time of Hainlein's visit to Italy, we find half a century of publi-cations stemming from Venice, Bolo-gna, Modena, Florence, Lucca, Rome and Naples, offering a wealth of music gna, Modena, Florence, Lucca, Kome and Naples, offering a wealth of music scored for anything from solo violin through two, three, four, five, six and eight parts, and composed by every-body who was anybody in the musical world of the time. You will meet with aristocrats like Count Pirro Albergati of an ancient Bolognese family; Francesco Bonporti,

Organ Leathers

Chrome-Tanned & Certified Leathers for Organbuilders, From Organbuilders

> Columbia Organ Leathers 915 Lancaster Avenue

Columbia, PA 17512 FAX 717/684-4428

1-800-423-7003 717/684-2108 (outside continental U.S.)

a councillor of the Imperial Court in a councillor of the Imperial Court in Trento; or Tommaso Albinoni whose father derived his wealth from the man-ufacture of high-quality paper. On the other hand there are violinists, humble and not-so-humble, ranging from the Milanese Giovanni Bianchi, the Man-wan Ardero Creasi and the two Vitalia Milanese Giovanni Bianchi, the Man-tuan Andrea Grossi and the two Vitalis (father and son) from Bologna, all the way to Giorgio Centili, principal first violin in the orchestra of St. Mark's, Venice; Giuseppe Colombi who occu-pied a similar position in the orchestra of Francesco II, Duke of Modena; Lo-renzo Gregori of Lucca who published the first concerti grossi; and Archangelo the first concerti grossi; and Archangelo Corelli from Fusignano, "maestro de maestri" who lived in sumptuous apartments set aside for him by cardinals of the church. What did they have in common? They wrote music which demands the participation of the organ! Look to the inner life, to the convents and monasteries. You find that great rarity of earlier times—a woman com-poser, Isabella Leonarda, Mother Su-perior of the College of St. Ursula in Novara. The Ursulines, founded in Brescia in 1535, were one of the first orders to encourage-even insist on-the ed-ucation of women, and this education naturally included music. Isabella's collection, which came out in 1693, pro-vided a wide choice of sonatas, from quartet. Two gifted Franciscan conven-tuals, Giovanni Maria Placuzzi of Forli and Sisto Reina of Modena, sent forth volumes of enchanting music which fea-tured pieces for four violins and ensemble works for various types of stringed instruments.

instruments. The Basso continuo book is always labelled "Organo," loud and clear! Think of the talented directors of music in Italy's major churches—San Petronio at Bologna, where Handel on the way to Rome first learned the lan-guage of the massive baroque, and where later the names of Giovanni Bat-tista Bassani, Giovanni Maria Bonon-cini, Maurizio Cazzati, Giuseppe To-relli, along with Giovanni and Tommaso Vitali, brought further renown to that famous edifice. The church of Santa Maria Maggiore in Bergamo's upper town could boast of Carlo Antonio Ma-rini, Pietro Antonio Ziani, and the rini, Pietro Antonio Ziani, and the afore-mentioned Cazzati among its maestri. Add to these buildings the crowning glory of the cathedrals, and you have musicians of the caliber of those two gentlemen of Verona, Domenico Zatta and Gasparo Gaspardini, then Bononcini again at Modena, Brother Elia Vannini at Ravenna's Sant-Orso before it was rebuilt in 1744, and Pietro Sanmartini who was responsible for the music at the magnificent Duomo in Florence. Their sinfonias, sonatas and concer-tos all call for the participation of the organ and the organist!

At court a similar pattern repeated itself. How often must the elegant and ornate music rooms of Tuscany's rulers have reverberated to the compositions of Giovanni Battista Gigli or Francesco of Giovanni Battista Gigli or Francesco Veracini, while the Este palazzi in Mo-dena lent suavity to the symphonies of Giuseppe Colombi, and the music of Andrea Grossi enlivened the vast edi-fices of the Gonzaga at Mantua. Further afield, Giovanni Battista Viviani brought a luminous and Italianate touch to the court at Innsbruck, and Andrea Fiore offered a musical chaplet to the Fiore offered a musical chaplet to the ruler of Savoy, Vittorio Amadeo II, Prince of Piedmont and King of Cyprus. Yet for all this glorious ensemble music there was one continuo instru-ment and one only—the organ!

Why is this fascinating repertoire not better known or more widely performed? Simple answer: for most music lovers, "baroque" means Vivaldi, and two or three other names at the most. Some violinists have heard of Corelli, while others seem incredulous about Torelli. The precious original editions by those composers mentioned in my by those composers mentioned in my brief survey are sufficiently well hid-den—or scattered—among the musical libraries of Europe and America that very little trouble has been taken to transcribe, edit and publish them. But as long ago as 1955 I produced several examples in a series of three concerts on the BBC Third Programme, when Thurston Dart and George Malcolm played organ accompaniments to violinplayed organ accompaniments to violin-ists Alfredo Campoli, Neville Marriner and Alan Loveday, with Julian Bream and Desmond Dupré as ancillary con-tinuo players. Predictably, the great wide world of music, accustomed to mega-persons and mega-repertoire raised scarcely an eyebrow. Yet there is no good reason to continue in blissful ignorance when so many promptings from the past remind us of what we might so easily re-possess.

Not long after my first reading of Sartori's Bibliografia I found myself in Oxford's Bodleian Library, where I knew there to be a sizeable cache of early Italian printed music. For some reason this library had been overlooked when the catalog was being compiled, but I remember sending my learned friend a list of well over eighty editions, fourteen of which were unique examples, known in no other European liples, known in no other European li-brary. The extraordinary point of the matter is that these myriad composi-tions, quite apart from their biblio-graphical rarity, have a life and person-ality of their own, and when performed as they deserve to be—with strings and organ—the effect can be quite delightful. The same is also true of Vivald's solo

The same is also true of Vivaldi's solo concertos and concerti grossi, for most of these were published with an organ book, which meant what it said and was not merely a poor excuse for using a harpsichord. In his famous all-girl orchestra at the Ospedale della Pietà, the organ continuo was always played by a young lady, as many of the visitors tell us in their diaries or memoirs. An early period of glasnost enabled a Russian globe-trotter, Petr Andreevic Tolstago, to comment in 1698 on the Venetian convents where women played the organ and other instruments and sang so wonderfully. Two decades later an Eng-lishman noted of the Pietà:

There are a prodigious number of children taken care of in this hospital [and before its foundation] multitudes used to be found . . . thrown into the canals of the city. Every Sunday and holiday there is a performance of musick . . . by the young women of the place. The organ-parts, as well as those of other instruments, are all performed by the young women.⁸

Similar sentiments were expressed by the French politician Charles de Brosses who also affirmed that girls played the organ parts.⁹ One of these was called Luciana organista, and her sisters in art were Michieletta del vio-lino, Lucieta dalla viola and Catarina del cornetto. Abandoned by their par-ents before they were even able to ents before they were even able to speak, they were fed, clothed and educated by the staff of the Pietà and often became excellent singers and players, standing a reasonable chance of getting married when they came of age. The down-and-outs (or derelicts) could find a home at the Derelitti, later known as the Ospedaletto, just opposite the church of SS. Giovanni e Paolo. Those afflicted with incurable diseases found their way to the Incurabili, in whose chapel there were two organs, as

martin ott pipe

1353 Baur Boulevard St Louis, Missouri 63132 (314) 569-0366

organ company inc.

Dr. Burney tells us in the captivating account of his visit to Venice in August 1770.¹⁰ As for the beggars, they could take themselves off to the Ospedale di Mendicanti where singing with organ accompaniment was much cultivated, and if its orchestra was less notable than that of the Pietà it was hardly less sizeable.

sizeable. One cannot help admiring Venice for taking such good care of the less than well-to-do, for it seems that no matter what their problem it could usually be alleviated if not cured by the discipline of music. Unfortunately the city also had its unpleasant side, as the good doctor discovered when he was fleeced doctor discovered when he was fleeced by mosquitos in his lodgings and by a stealthy pickpocket in the church of San Lorenzo. But it was there that he lis-tened approvingly to a violin concerto written and performed by Antonio Nazari, principal professor of violin at the Pietà.

The continuo for Nazari's concerto would almost certainly have been played on the organ, as in another of his concertos given at "La Celestia"—Santa Maria della Celestia, one of the few old Venetian churches that has not survived. Although Nazari's concertos, unlike the ensemble music discussed earlier, remain in manuscript, they can be studied in the manuscript music collec-tion at the University of California, Berkeley.¹¹ Despite its later date, much of this music still belongs to the continuo tradition and would certainly feature the organ as principal continuo instrument. F.T. Arnold, author of The Art of Accompaniment from a Thorough-Bass, touches the heart of the matter in a letter to Kaikhosru Sorabji, who had enquired about modern misconceptions of the continuo. "Many people," replied Dr. Arnold, "entirely misunderstand its true nature and function. They regard it as merely complementary to the principal part, instead of being the all-embracing entity it really is."¹² If any embracing entity it really is."¹² If any readers know of string ensembles in their village, town or city, why not invite them to come and join with the organ in a concert of baroque music? The chances are that it will be better bal-The anced in weight and tonality than most of the recorded music foisted upon us, because it will recall and reproduce the sounds of happier, former, and wiser times.

Notes 1. Francesco Sansovino: Venetia città nobilis-sima . . . with additions by Guistinian Martinioni (Venice, 1663), p. 457. 2. Thomas Coryate: Crudities, hastily gobbled up in Five Months' Travel (London, 1611); edition of 1905, p. 391. 3. Denis Arnold: "Music at the Scuola di San Rocco," Music and Letters XL (1959), p. 237. 4. Sansovino, Venetia, pp. 91, 139, 180, 199, 241, 280.

Sansovino, venetus, pp. ox, acc, acc, 241, 280.
 Venice, Archivio di Stato, Procuratoria de Supra, Cassier Chiesa, vol. vii.
 Willibald Gurlitt: "Ein Briefwechsel zwischen Paul Hainlein and L. Friedrich Behaim aus den Jahren 1647-48," in Samelbände der Internationalen Musikgesellschaft, XIV (1912-13), p. 497 den Jahren 1647-48," in Sammelbände der Internationalen Musikgesellschaft, XIV (1912-13), p. 497.

7. Claudio Sartori: Bibliografia della musica strumentale italiana stampata in Italia fino al 1700 (two volumes, Florence, 1952 and 1968).
8. Edward Wright: Some observations made in travelling through France, Italy, etc., in the years 1720, 1721 and 1722 (two volumes, London, 1730); edition of 1764, p. 80.
9. Charles de Brosses: Lettres familières sur l'Italie (Paris, 1799); edition of 1858, I, p. 215.
10. Charles Burney, edited by Percy A. Scholes: An Eighteenth-Century Musical Tour in France and Italy (two volumes, London, 1959).
11. Vincent Duckles and Minnie Elmer: Thematic Catalog of a Manuscript Collection of Eighteenth-Century Italian Instrumental Music (Berkeley and Los Angeles, 1963).
12. Kaikhosru Shapurji Sorabji: Mi Contra Fa-te Immoralizings of a Machiavellian Musician (London, 1947), p. 191.

A Gift Subscription to

THE DIAPASON

The perfect Holiday gift for

- + Organist colleagues
- + Students
- + Teachers
- + Choir Directors
- + Organbuilders

Each month your gift will keep giving by providing the important news of the organ and church music field. Send in the form below along with your check and know that your gift will be just right.

THE DIAPASON

380 NORTHWEST HIGHWAY · DES PLAINES, IL 60016

FOR:		ENCLOSED IS
		🗌 $36.00—3 years
Name	3. 1 . 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1.	🗆 $27.00—2 years
Ohne at		🗆 $18.00—1 year
Street		Foreign subscriptions:
City		□ $60.00-3 years
ony		□ $43.00-2 years
State	Zip	🗍 $28.00-1 year
From:	10 A 10 A

New Organs

Cover

Guzowski & Steppe Organbuilders, Inc., Fort Lauderdale, FL, has built a new organ for Faith Lutheran Church, Sarasota, FL. Built in 1984, the church was planned to house a pipe organ, the architect providing ample space for the organ chamber which forms an apse. architect providing ample space for the organ chamber which forms an apse. The building is of modest size, seating approximately 375. Acoustically, there is very little reverberation, though sound carries well throughout the room. Within these parameters and a set budget, a moderately-sized two-manual unit organ of 10 stops/13 ranks was the best solution. Very generous scales (with variable scaling) were employed to give a warm tone to the instrument and to compensate for the relatively "dry" acoustics. The 16' facade consists of speaking pipes of the Principal and is in gold finish. The action is electro-mechanical and electro-pneumatic. Wind pressures range from 75 mm. to 140 mm. Temperament is equal at A440 pitch. Coupling and keying is solid state as is the two-level memory combination action. Careful use of unification in the action. Careful use of unification in the action. Careful use of unification in the specification and the character of the voicing give the listener the impression of a "straight" instrument providing a versatile tonal pallet and a minimum of compromise for the musician. Tonal design, voicing, and tonal finishing by Walter Guzowski; technical and facade design by John Steppe. Thomas R. Thomas acted as consultant to the church. church.

- GREAT Bourdon Principal Holzgedeckt Gamba (Sw)
- Octave Rohrflöte (Sw)
- 16' 8' 8' 8' 4' 4' 2' 2' Super Octave Recorder Mixture III Oboe (Sw) Schalmei (Sw)
- SWELL/GRÉAT

SWELL (Expressive)

- Rohrflöte Gamba Celeste 8' 8' 8' 4'
- Salicet Gedeckt (Gt)
- Nazard Flute 92/2 273 2' 13/5'
- Tierce
- 1%' 1' Larigot Kleine Octave
- Cymbal II Fagott Oboe
- 16' 8' 4' Schalmei Tremulant
- PEDAL Resultant 32'
- 16' Principal Subbass
- 16' 8' 8' 8' 4' 4' Principal Bourdon
- Gamba Choralbass Flute
- Mixture III
- 16'
- Fagott Oboe Schalmei GREAT/PEDAL 8' 4' SWELL/PEDAL

ANALYSIS

- 16' Holzgedeckt Principal Rohrflöte
- 16' 8' 8' 8'
- Gamba Celeste (TC)
- 13/5 Tierce

- 14/5' Larigot
 14/5' Mixture III
 16' Fagott/Oboe (full length)

Celebrating ten years of broadcasting A radio program for the king of instruments

An American Organist's Christmas ... Paul Manz, Michael Stairs, Brian Jones, John Obetz, Marsha Long, Frederick Swann, Robert Cundick and John Longhurst, the Memphis Chamber DECEMBER #9249 Choir and Boston's Trinity Church Choir and Brass all join to celebrate this special season. Holiday International ... a global festival of historic sounds #9250

and contemporary interpretations of the Christmas joy, featuring Dan Miller, Robert Vickery, Jean Guillou, André Isoir, Thierry Mechler, Harald Vogel, George Wright and Virgil Fox. The Nativity of the Saviour . . . meditations on the birth of #9251

Jesus, with Gregorian chant, scripture readings, and music of Nicolas DeGrigny and Olivier Messiaen.

An Organist's Yearbook . . . reflections upon events of the past twelve months, with projections and resolutions for the New Year. Host's choice, TBA.

John-Paul Buzard Organ Craftsmen, Inc., Champaign, IL, has built a new organ for Trinity Lutheran Church, Taylorville, IL. From the builder:

It was nearly ten years ago when the Organ Committee at Trinity Lutheran Church first contacted me about building a new pipe organ. We agreed upon the tonal style of the instrument: an articulate, classically-conceived organ inspired by the German Lutheran tra-dition and especially appropriate for leading hymn-singing and playing a variety of organ literature. But a greater challenge was issued in the visual de-sign. It was immediately obvious the organ had to be designed to grace, rather than hide the large window which is the entire rear wall of the balcony; it was also necessary to mini-mize the balcony floor space the organ would occupy, to leave room for the choir.

Happily, all these requirements were met in this instrument's design. As is the custom in many continental Lu-theran churches, a division of the organ is suspended over the balcony rail. In this instance, this layout was of triple benefit: a suspended division encour-ages greater success from this type of tonal design; less balcony floor space was required; the suspended division could aid the eye in enjoying the rear window. The main organ, which is lo-cated against the rear wall of the balconv, has its pipes arranged to assist in visually "framing" the contemporary picture in the central portion of the window.

We chose to build a case for the Positiv division using cut glass. The glass case not only allows a viewer to look through it to the window beyond, but reflects parts of the window in its effect in the church. Glass was also chosen to subtly carry the material used in the window into the room. The effect is that the window becomes more prom-inent, and that the organ and the window are visually married to produce a combination of lovely effects as the light changes during a given day.

changes during a given day. The organ has two manual keyboards and pedalboard, 15 ranks of pipes and a total of 828 pipes. Two ranks not installed at this time have been pre-pared for future addition; upon their installation the organ will have 17 ranks and 950 pipes. While the stops of unison pitch exhibit great warmth, they are never allowed to cloud or "muddy" the transparent character so essential to this transparent character so essential to this style of organbuilding. As successively higher pitches are added the effect is a The two prepared stops are reeds, which can be used for fanfares, or to add color to the other sounds.

GREAT

- 8'
- 8' 4'
- 2
- Principal Chimney Flute Octave Tapered Octave Mixture IV Trompet (prep) Positiv to Great

POSITIV

- Gedeckt Prestant Koppel Flute Octave 8' 4' 4'
- 8' Krummhorn (prep)

PEDAL

- Bourdon Octave 16' 8
- 16 Basson Great to Pedal
 - Positiv to Pedal

The Saint Dunstan-Art Organ Works, Houston, TX, has recently com-pleted the restoration of the 1922 Henry Pilcher's Sons organ (opus 1120) at Sa-cred Heart Co-Cathedral, Houston. The present console from the 1955 Aeolian-Skinner opus 1297 built for the chapel of Centenary College in Shreveport, LA, was installed in the 1970s. Only one dead note was due to bad chest leather, the remainder of the chest pneumatics are still covered in the orig-inal leather. The stop and coupler switches in the console were recovered switches in the console were recovered as needed and the associated valves, which had been severely damaged by insects, were replaced. New drawknob heads replaced the original Skinner units which showed incorrect stop units which showed incorrect stop names for this organ. All pipework was removed, washed, cleaned, and re-installed. The pipes were then placed back on proper speech, repaired as needed, and re-regulated utilizing the original Pilcher system of a gradual, progressive crescendo from bass to treble. Chestwork and woodwork was cleaned and relacquered as necessary. The main reservoir was stripped to bare The main reservoir was stripped to bare wood, primed, and recovered using rubbercloth hinging, scived leather gus-sets and fittings, and cooked hide glue to ensure future serviceability. A new Peterson electronic swell motor replaced the severely damaged pneumatic unit. The Oboe Gamba was renamed Salicional while retaining its original sound, and the Salicional was desig-nated a Salicional Celeste. In the cleannated a Salicional Celeste. In the clean-ing process, the leathering disintegrated on the upper lips of the Swell Horn Diapason. The resulting tone was brighter and more certain and the stop was thus renamed Violin Diapason. Several stops were added in the pedal division utilizing existing pipework and extra stop switches in the console. The intent was to preserve the original Pilintent was to preserve the original Pilcher character of this instrument, a company on which this firm has done extensive research. Working with The Saint Dunstan-Art Organ Works on this project was James A. Brown, and the Levsen Organ Company, Buffalo, IA, has built an organ, opus 9, for St. Paul United Church of Christ, Wheatland, IA. A Hinners opus 1790-C was installed in 1914, ordered from a mail order catalog and pumped by hand. A reworking and updating in 1952 in-cluded an electric action system and discarded half the Hinners pipework. Levsen was chosen to deal with me-chanical problems: worn contacts in the electric action, the need for more organ and the lack of control. The resulting instrument is 18 ranks, and was dedicated by Arlyn Fuerst of Madison, WI.

GREAT

- Principal Rohrflote 8' 8'
- 8
- 8
- Rohrhote Erzhaler (Sw) Schwebung (Sw) Oktave Rohrflote (12 pipes)
- 2
- Flochflote Mixture III
- 8' Trompette (Sw)

SWELL

- Holzgedeckt Erzhaler 8
- 8 Schwebung
- Geigenprinzipal Hohlflote $2^{2/3}$
- Spitznasat (12 pipes) Oktave 9'
- 13/5 Terz

16

- Spitzquinte Trompete Tremolo 11/2

PEDAL

- Subbass Lieblichbass (12 pipes) Quintebass (Sw) Oktavebass 16
- 10%
 - Flotenbass (12 pipes) Choralbass (12 pipes) Oktave (12 pipes) Trompete (12 pipes) Trompete (Sw) Trompete (Sw) assistant for tonal finishing was Preston L. Schultz. The bishop for the diocese of Galveston-Houston is the Most Rev. Joseph A. Fiorenza, D.D., the pastor is the Rev. Msgr. Phillipe Le-Xuan Thoung, and the senior organist is Mrs. Elizabeth McGowen.
- 16

GREAT Coupler manual in this installation

- SWELL
- Violin Diapason Stopped Flute Salicional Salicional Celeste 8' 8' 8' 8'
- Aeoline Aeoline Celeste (TC) Harmonic Flute Tremolo

CHOIR (Original Great) Open Diapason Melodia

- 8
- 8' 4' Dulciana
- Flute d'Amour
- PEDAL 32'
- Grand Bourdon (Resultant, 1991) Bourdon

- Lieblich Gedeckt (Sw) 16'
- 8' 8' 4' Bass Flute Gedeckt (Sw, 1991) Flute (1991)

Merging Modern Technology With the Art of Organbuilding

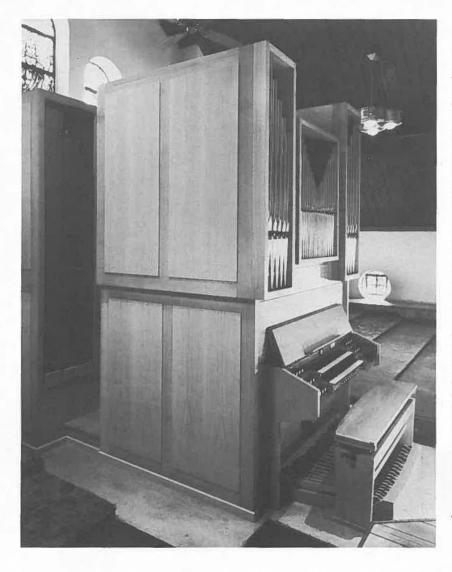

Peterson is proud to be chosen as the supplier of electronic and electro-mechanical systems to the world's foremost pipe organ builders. As leaders in their time honored craft, these builders recognize the importance of our complete commitment to quality, firm dedication to service, and long-standing reputation as the leading innovator in our field.

We are pleased to provide the equipment that musicians use to bring joy and inspiration throughout the world.

To obtain an informative brochure about the many advantages of Peterson products, contact us at 11601 S. Mayfield Avenue, Worth, Illinois, 60482; (708) 388-3311.

John M. Crum Pipe Organs of War-nerville, NY, has imported, erected, and finished a new organ for St. James the Less Church (Roman Catholic), Jamesburg, NJ. The instrument was built in Germany expressly for John Crum, who is also an Episcopal priest. The St. James organ has mechanical heav action; the stop action and couplers key action, the stop action and couplers are electrical. Both are entirely silent in operation. There are 8 general pistons that can only be changed when the key is inserted. Additionally, when the key is given a ¹/₄ turn, 8 more free combinations become available. The actions are a combination of wood and metal and use historic and metal metal and use historic and modern materials. The responsiveness of the key action is further enhanced by the voicing of the pipework. The style chosen is that of the great European organs of the 60s and 70s, rather than the more "romantic" style in vogue in the late 80s to the present. All Principal ranks in this instrument are of 75% tin.

While the front pipes of the Great case are polished tin, the Praestant pipes of the Pedal case are of solid mahogany. The pedal division also fea-tures a Regal of Spanish type. Because of space limitations an 8' Principal was omitted from the Great division; how-ever, since the manual reeds are also at pitch and are a semi-chorus variety, the ensemble is balanced.

The interior of the console/key desk is finished in polished walnut with drawstops of grenadilla. The natural keys are covered with boxwood and the sharps are of grenadilla. The pedals are of oak with sharps overlaid with ebony. They are concave and radiating, con-forming to B.D.O. standards. The bench is of oak, adjustable and with polished seat. The cases are of solid white oak finished natural with satin lacquer.

Assisting in the installation were the former music director, the maintenance crew of St. James, and Chase Pipe Organs of Worcester, NY. Compass 56/ 30. Wind pressure 2% inches; equal temperament. 18 stops, 21 ranks, 1,072 pipes.

- 8'
- GREAT Holzgedeckt Praestant Rohr Flute 4' 4'
- 2' Flach Flute
- 11/3'
- Mixture III Schalmei-Oboe 8'
- SWELL Viola da Gamba Lieblich Gedackt 8
- 8' 4' Gemshorn
- Principal 13/5
- Tierce Principal Quinte Zimbel 11/3'
- 1/2 Krummhorn Tremulant 8'
- - PEDAL
- Sub Bass Rohr Gedeckt Choral Bass
- 8' 4' 8' Regal

16

The Ross King Company, Fort Worth, TX, has built a new organ for Arlington Heights United Methodist Church, Fort Worth. The organ consists Church, Fort Worth. The organ consists of 43 voices, 58 ranks of pipes, housed in an oak case. The Great Harmonic Flute, Great Trumpet and Pedal Trom-bone pipes are in the Choir chamber. The Solo Trumpet consists of hooded pipes in the center of the case voiced on high pressure. "Solo Trumpet on Swell" (reversible): Trumpet is playable from the Swell manual but does not couple to other divisions. A switch for rom the Sweir manual but does not couple to other divisions. A switch for the expression shutters allows Chancel Only/Chancel and Nave. A switch al-lows turning off the third-sounding rank of the Choir Terzzimbel IV.

FREE

Pipe Organ Planning & Fund Raising Guide

offered by APOBA, the organization dedicated to expanding and perfecting the art of American pipe organ building. Includes:

- Planning requirements & specifications
 - Qualifying & selecting builders
- Educating the congregation -
- Organizing your fund raising committee
- Establishing realistic goals and time tables

Raising the funds you need. For your free copy, contact: Associated Pipe Organ Builders of America • P.O. Box 155 • Chicago Ridge, IL 60415 1-800-473-5270

- GREAT
- Principal Koppelflute Harmonic Flute 8' 8' 4'
- Octave
- Nachthorn Super Octave Mixture 4' 2' IV
- Scharf Trumpet IV 8
- Tremulant

CHOIR (Pipes in chancel casework) Gedeckt Koppelflute Gemshorn Larigot Terzeimbel

- 4'2'
- 1%' IV Terzzimbel
- 11 8' 8' Sesquialtera Krummhorn
- Solo Trumpet (Pipes enclosed in west chamber) Waldflute
- Gamba Gamba Celeste Spitzflute Flute Celeste Principal 8

- Clarinet

8' 8' 8' 8'

Tremulant

- - SWELL (east chamber)
 - Gedeckt Principal
 - Chimneyflute

piston)

	PEDAL
32'	Subbass
16'	Major Bass
16'	Bourdon
16'	Gedeckt (Sw)
16'	Violone (Sw)
8'	Octave
8'	Principal (Sw)
8'	Gedeckt (Sw)
4'	Super Octave
4'	Flute (Ch)
Ш	Mixture
32'	Bassoon
16'	Trombone
16'	Bassoon (Sw)
	Trumpet
4'	Oboe (Sw)

16' 8' 8' 8' 8' 8' 4' 4' Viola Viola Celeste Octave Flute 23/3 Nazard 2' 2' 1% Super Octave Spitzflute Tierce IV Plein Jeu 16' Bassoon 16 8 8 4 Trumpet Oboe (Bassoon) Clarion Tremulant Zimbelstern 8

Solo Trumpet (via reversible

- 3
 - 1

16

Calendar

This calendar runs from the 15th of the month of issue through the following month. The deadline is the first of the preceding month (Jan 1 for Feb issue) All events are assumed to be organ recitals unless otherwise indicated and are grouped within each date north-south and east-west. *=AGO chapter event, =RCCO centre event, + = new organ dedication, + + = OHS event. Information cannot be accepted unless it specifies artist name, date, location, and hour in writ-ing Multiple listings should be in chronological order, please do not send duplicate listings. THE DIAPASON regrets that it cannot assume respon sibility for the accuracy of calendar entries.

UNITED STATES East of the Mississippi

15 DECEMBER

Handel, Messiah; St Thomas, New York, NY 7:30 pm (also December 17)

16 DECEMBER

Harold Stover; St Luke's Cathedral, Portland, ME 12:15 pm Handel, Messiah; St Mary the Virgin, New York,

NY 7:30 pm

Karel Paukert; Cleveland Museum, Cleveland, OH 12 pm Stephen Schaeffer: Cathedral Church of the

Advent, Birmingham, AL 11:50 am

18 DECEMBER

Brian Jones; Trinity Church, Boston, MA 12:15 pm American Boychoir; Trinity Cathedral, Trenton,

NJ 8 pm Wolfgang Rübsam: Rockefeller Chapel, Chicago, IL 8 pm

19 DECEMBER

The New Oratorio Singers; St Francis DeSales, Lake Zurich, IL 7:30 pm

His Majestie's Clerkes; St Procopius Abbey, Lisle, IL 8 pm

Lessons & Carols; South Church, New Britain, CT 4 pm

Lessons & Carols; Christ Church, Oyster Bay, NY 4 pm Lessons & Carols; St Thomas, New York, NY

11 am, 4pm McK. Williams, Pageant of the Holy Nativity; St

Bartholomew's, New York, NY 4 pm American Boychoir; Princeton Univ, Princeton, NJ 3:30 pm

Handel, Messiah, with orchestra; Holy Trinity, Philadelphia, PA Lessons & Carols; St John's Church, Washington, DC 11 am

Saint-Saëns, Christmas Oratorio; Bethesda Presbyterian, Bethesda, MD 11 am Lessons & Carols; First Presbyterian, Burlington, NC 5 pm Choral Concert; Cleveland Museum, Cleveland, OH 2 pm David Burton Brown; All SS Episcopal, Pontiac, MI 4 pm His Majestie's Clerkes; St Paul & the Redeemer, Chicago, IL 2:30 pm

Sal Soria; Holy Name Cathedral, Chicago, IL 3:30 pm

Christmas Concert: Independent Presbyterian. Birmingham, AL 5 pm Lessons & Carols; Christ Church Cathedral,

New Orleans, LA 4 pm

22 DECEMBER

Ray Cornils, with brass; City Hall, Portland, ME 7:30 pm Lessons & Carols; St Peter's Episcopal, Morristown, NJ 5:30 pm

23 DECEMBER

Britten, Ceremony of Carols; St Thomas, New York, NY 12:10 pm Karel Paukert: Cleveland Museum, Cleveland, OH 12 pm

27 DECEMBER

essons & Carols; St Bartholomew's, New York, NY 4 pm Lessons & Carols; Grace Episcopal, Silver

Spring, MD 10:15 am Karel Paukert; Cleveland Museum, Cleveland, OH 2 pm Lessons & Carols; Central United Methodist, Lansing, MI 9:30 am

29 DECEMBER David Higgs; Philharmonic Center, Naples, FL 8 pm

3 JANUARY

- Michael Kleinschmidt; St Thomas Church, New York, NY 5:15 pm Marilyn Keiser; St Mark's Episcopal, Jackson-ville, FL 10 am
- Karel Paukert: Cleveland Museum, Cleveland, OH 2 pm
- Feast of Lights; Cathedral Church of the Advent, Birmingham, AL 6:30 pm

6 JANUARY

Alan Davis; St Mary the Virgin, New York, NY 5:30 pm Dvorak, Mass in D; St Mary the Virgin, New York, NY 6 pm American Boychoir; Our Lady of Czestochowa, Doylestown, PA 8 pm

8 JANUARY Harold Stover; Trinity Church, Boston, MA

12:15 pm Singing Boys of Pennsylvania; St Mark's-bythe-Sea Lutheran, Palm Coast, FL 8 pm

9 JANUARY

Singing Boys of Pennsylvania; Cathedral of St Augustine, St Augustine, FL 8 pm Marilyn Keiser, workshop; First Presbyterian, Gainesville, FL 10 am

10 JANUARY

Stephen Tharp; St Thomas Church, New York, NY 5:15 pm Edward Brewer, with ensemble; West Side

- Presbyterian, Ridgewood, NJ 4 pm Elizabeth Melcher & John Sittard; Long-
- wood Gardens, Kennett Square, PA 2:30 pm
- Singing Boys of Pennsylvania; United Method-ist Church, Sun City Center, FL 3 pm Marilyn Keiser; First Presbyterian, Gainesville,

FL 4 pm Karel Paukert; Cleveland Museum, Cleveland, OH 2 pm Byrd, Mass for Four Voices; St John Cantius,

- Chicago, IL 11 am
- Alan Morrison; Christ Church Cathedral, New Orleans, LA 4 pm

11 JANUARY

Singing Boys of Pennsylvania; Christ Lutheran, Cape Coral, FL 8 pm

12 JANUARY

David Herman; St Mark's Episcopal, Philadelphia, PA 12:10 pm

13 JANUARY

Samuel Carabetta; St John's Church, Wash-ington, DC 12:10 pm

Singing Boys of Pennsylvania; First Presbyte-rian, Tequesta, FL 8 pm

15 JANUARY

Brian Jones; Trinity Church, Boston, MA 12:15 pm Singing Boys of Pennsylvania; First United Methodist, Lakeland, FL 7:30 pm

JANUARY 16 Charles Krigbaum; St Peter's Episcopal, Morristown, NJ 8 pm

17 JANUARY

- James Hicks; St Thomas Church, New York, NY 5:15 pm Bradford Winters; Longwood Gardens, Ken-
- nett Square, PA 2:30 pm Singing Boys of Pennsylvania; Central Chris-
- tian, Augusta, GA 7 pm Marilyn Keiser; First Presbyterian, Ft Lauderdale, FL 7:30 pm
- Karel Paukert; Cleveland Museum, Cleveland, OH 2 pm David Burton Brown: Trinity Episcopal, To-
- ledo, OH 4 pm Richard Erickson; Pilgrim Congregational, Duluth, MN 4 pm
 - A two-inch Professional Card in THE DIAPASON Call for rates

Phone 708/298-6622 Fax 708/390-0408

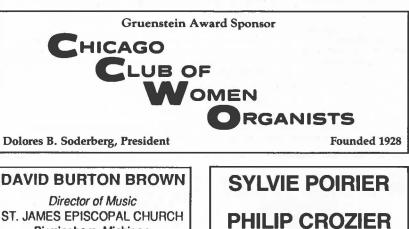

robert anderson

Southern Methodist University

Dallas, Texas 75275

FAGO

SMD

ST. JAMES EPISCOPAL CHURCH Birmingham, Michigan ORGAN RECITALS

Shelly-Ealer Flute and Organ Duo

CHARLOTTE AND WILLIAM

ATKINSOR

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH 2001 El Camino Real

University of Michigan

BRUCE GUSTAFSON

Franklin and Marshall College Lancaster, Pennsylvania

WILL HEADLEE Syracuse, NY 13203-2816 (315) 471-8451

4702 Queen Mary Road, Apt 10

Montreal, H3W 1W8, P. Quebec Canada (514) 739-8696

ORGAN DUO

THE DIAPASON

SUSAN ARMSTRONG, The Baptist Tem-ple, Brooklyn, NY, June 6: Fantasie in D, op. 176, Merkel; Allegretto, op. 29, no. 2, Foote; Komm Heiliger Geits, Herre Gott, Bach; Anitra's Dance, Grieg; Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy, Tschaikowsky; Etude Sympho-nique, Bossi; Tuba Tune, Lang; Grand So-nata in E-flat, op. 22, Buck; Grand March from Aida, Verdi. SUSAN ARMSTRONG, The Baptist Tem-

DARLENE BILL, First United Method-ist Church, Sioux Falls, SD, July 15: Sonata III, op. 65, Mendelssoha; Praeludium et Fuga in d, S. 539, Bach; Cantabile, Franck; Komm, Heiliger Geist, S. 651, Bach.

DAVID BURTON BROWN, Epiphany Lutheran Church, Burtonsville, MD, May 31: Toccata and Fugue in D, Buxtehude; Elegy, Thalben-Ball; Funtasy, K. 594, Mo-zart; Sunrise on Sunset Hill, Elms, Sunday Night (Views from the Oldest House), Rorem; Prelude on "New Britain," Wood; Scherzo, Allegro (Second Symphony, op. 20), Vierne.

MARTY CLONINGER, U.S. Air Force MARTY CLONINGER, U.S. Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, CO, July 26: Concerto in B Minor: Meck, Walther; Jesu, meine Freude, S. 1105, Allein Gott in der Höh sei Ehr, S. 711, Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer, S. 680, Bach; Offertoire sur les grands jeux, Couperin; Four Psalm Preludes: 23, 29, 137, 117, Powell; Hymn Interpretations: The Ash Grove, New Brit-ain, Ein feste Burg, Cherwien; Patriotic Mel-odies, arr. Linker/Koury/Crawford.

RICHARD F. COLLMAN, First United Methodist Church, Sioux Falls, SD, June 24: Overture to the Occasional Oratorio, Han-del; Minuet, Wesley; Fanfare, Cook; Improv-isation on "Crimond," Thiman; Variations on an Easter Theme, Rutter.

PHILIP CROZIER & SYLVIE POIRIER. Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, June 17: Duet for Organ, Wesley; Prelude and Fugue in B-flat, Albrechtsberger; A Verse (In Nomine), Carleton; Sonata in D Minor, op. 30, Merkel.

FELIX FRIEDRICH, First Congrega-tional Church, Ann Arbor, MI, July 3: Aria Eberliana pro dormente Camillo variata, J.C. Bach; 2 Fugen a-Moll/B-Dur, W.F. Bach; 3 Flötenuhrstucke, C.P.E. Bach; Präludium und Fuge C-Dur, S. 545, Partita "Sei ge-grüsset, Jesu gütig, S. 768, J.S. Bach; Jesu, meine Zuversicht, Toccata und Fuge a-Moll, Krebs. Krebs

JOSEPH GALEMA, U.S. Air Force Acad-emy, Colorado Springs, CO, July 5: Pomp and Circumstance Military March in G, op. 39, no. 4, Elgar; Concerto No. 4 in F Major, Handel; Tuba Tune, Cocker; Improvisation in A, op. 150, no. 7, Saint-Saëns; Postlude pour l'office de complies, Alain; Epilogue sur un théme de Frescobaldi pour pédale solo, Langlais; L'Ange à la Trompette, Charpentier.

DAVID A. GELL, Trinity Episcopal Church, Santa Barbara, CA, June 21: Sketch in C Minor, op. 58, no. 1, Schumann; Woodland Idyll, Clokey; Fountain Reverie, Fletcher; In Summer, Stebbins; La Prima-vera, Balderston; Carillon, Delamarter; A Trumpet Minuet, Hollins; Sunday Scherzo, Ashdown; Sumer is icumen in, cucu, Jello; Sonata for organ, Gell.

DAVID HERMAN, Bangor Cathedral, Wales, July 1: Pavan: The Earl of Salisbury, Byrd; A Gigge: Doctor Bull's my selfe, Bull; Sonata de I tono, Lidon; Toccata in F Major, S. 540, Bach; Thirty Pieces for Small Organ, op. 18/1: 1, 2, 8, 10, Distler; Fantasy on Slane, Larsen; Processional, Mathias; Rho-symedre, Bryn Calfaria, Vaughan Williams; Sarabande, Howells; Toccata, Dubois.

MILDRED K. HUCGHINS, First United Methodist Church, Sioux Falls, SD, July 1: America the Beautiful, Ward, arr. Heitler & Lyke; God save the King, Wesley; Hail Columbia; The Fourth of July, Hewitt;

The Stars and Stripes Forever, Sousa, arr. Biggs.

MICHELE JOHNS & MARILYN MA-SON, First Congregational Church, Ann Arbor, MI, July 10: Seis Conciertos de dos Organos, Soler.

ROSE KIRN, University of Michigan, Ann ROSE KIKN, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI, July 5: Praeludium et Fuga in f, S. 534, Schmücke dich, o liebe Seele, S. 654, Herr Jesu Christ, dich zu uns wend', S. 655, O Lamm Gottes, unschuldig, S. 656, Von Gott will ich nicht lassen, S. 658, Nun komm' der Heiden Heiland, S. 659, 661, Komm, Gott, Schöpfer, heiliger Geist, S. 667, Toccata et Fuga in d, S. 565, Bach.

DANIEL LAMOUREUX, Church of the Pilgrimage, Plymouth, MA, July 9: Grand Choeur, Dubois; Two Pieces for an Organ Clock, C.P.E. Bach; Rondeau, Mouret; Theme from Brideshead, Burgon, arr. We-therell; Salve Regina, Widor; Andantino, Vierne; The Stars and Stripes Forever, Sousa, arr. Biggs; Toccata in B Minor, Gigout.

ARTHUR LAWRENCE, St. Paul's Epis-copal Church, La Porte, IN, June 21: Nachs-piel in D Minor, Rinck; Second Fantaise, Alain; Andantino, Vierne; Intermezzo, Wi-dor; Prelude, Fugue and Chaconne in C Major, Buxtehude; Come, Holy Spirit, S. 667, All glory be to God on high, S. 676, Fugue in G Major, S. 577, Bach.

RUTH LEWIS, St. James United Church, Montreal, June 16: Prelude and Fugue in C Major, op. 109, no. 3, Saint-Saëns; Wie schön leuchtet der Morgenstern, Gade; Partita on "Ein feste Burg," Clarke; Rhapsody, op. 17, no. 1, Howells; Five Dances for Organ, Humpton Hampton.

MARILYN MASON, with Pierre D'Ar-chambeau, violin, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI, June 28: Chaconne, Vitali, Sonata in D Major, op. 1, no. 13, Handel; Toccata, Adagio and Fugue in C, S. 564, Bach; Sonata for Violin, Ysäye; Suite for Violin and Organ, op. 166, Rheinberger.

MAX MILLER, Methuen Memorial Hall, Methuen, MA, July 8: Sonata No. 4 in B-flat, Mendelssohn; Chaconne in A Minor, David; Prière, op. 20, no. 5, Franck; Three Pieces, Parker; Canon, Chacony and Fugue, Sowerby.

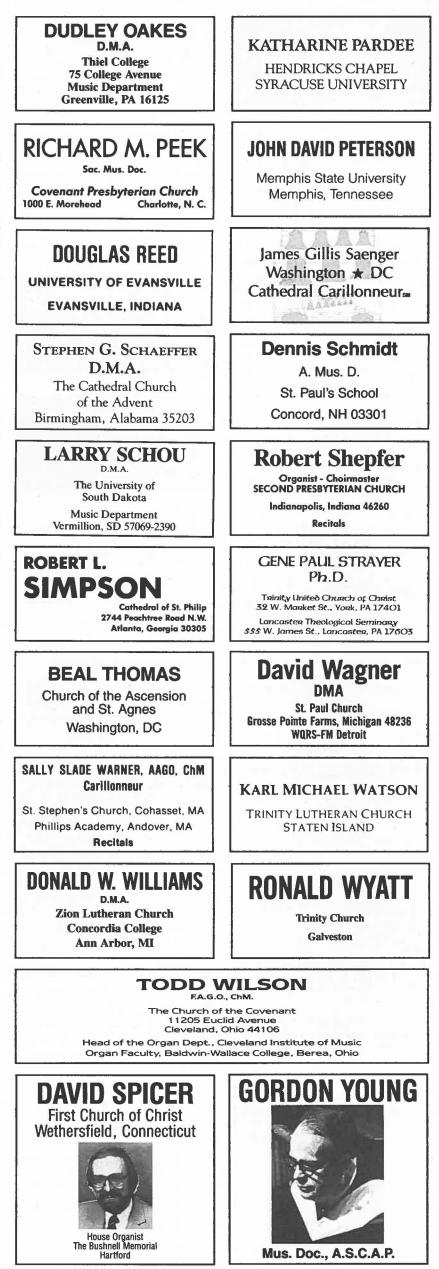

JACK MOHLENHOFF & MARILYN MOHLENHOFF, First United Methodist Church, Sioux Falls, SD, July 8: Toccata and Fugue in D Minor, Bach; Concerto in B Minor, Walther; Prelude, Fugue and Cha-conne, Buxtehude.

KARL MOYER, Washington National Ca-thedral, Washington, DC, June 14: Homage to Perotin, Roberts; Prelude and Fugue in G, S. 550, Bach; Serene Alleluias, Les Ressus-cités et la lumiécede Vie, Messiaen; Prelude in G, Fugue in G, Dvorak; Psalm-Prelude II, ii, Howells; Choral in A, Franck

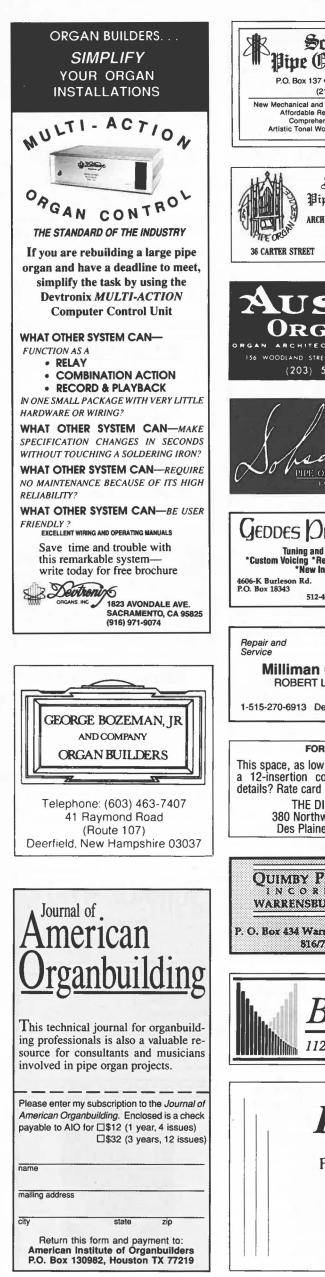

CARLENE NEIHART, Northminster Presbyterian Church, Hutchinson, KS, June 3: Toccata in F Major, S. 540, Bach; St. Anthony Chorale, Brahms; Rondo, Rinck; Air on a G String, Bach; Hornpipe, Handel; The Bells of St. Anne de Beaupre, Russell; For us and for our salvation, Liszt; Variations on a Theme for Pedals Only, Thalben-Ball; Toccata, Widor.

LARRY PALMER, St. John's Lutheran Church, Bakersfield, CA, May 15: Dialogue in C, Marchand; Récit de Tierce en taille, de Grigny; O man bewail thy grevious sin, S. 622, Wake, awake, for night is flying, S. 645, Bach; Partita: Wake, awake for night is flying, op. 8/1, Intonation, Concertino, Chaconne, Canon, op. 18/1, Distler; Pastorella, S. 590, Concerto in G Major, S. 592, Toccata and Fugue in D Minor, S. 565, Bach.

Þ

LARRY PALMER LAWRENCE Professor of Harpsichord and Organ ROBINSON Meadows School of the Arts SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY VIRGINIA COMMONWEALTH UNIVERSITY Dallas, Texas RICHMOND, VIRGINIA 75275 Musical Heritage Society recordings

Schneider Pipe Organs, Inc. P.O. Box 137 • Kenney, IL 61749-0137 (217) 944-2454 New Mechanical and Electrical Action Organs Affordable Residential Organs Comprehensive Rebuilds Artistic Tonal Work & Revoiced Pipes A & J Reed & Pipe Organ Serbice ARCHIE MARCHI & JOE CORKEDALE (914) 561-1480 NEWBURGH, NY 12550 USTIN URGANS ARCHITECTS AND BUILDERS (203) 522-8293 GEDDES DIDE ORGANS Tuning and Maintenance *Custom Volcing *Rebuilding *Restorations *New Instruments Austin, Texas 78741 78760 512-445-5221 Tuning and Additions Milliman Organ Co. ROBERT L. MILLIMAN 3300 Patricia Dr. 1-515-270-6913 Des Moines, Iowa 50322 FOR SALE This space, as low as $30 per issue on a 12-insertion contract. Want more details? Rate card sent on request. THE DIAPASON 380 Northwest Highway Des Plaines, IL 60016 OUIMBY PIPE ORGANS INCORPORATED WARRENSBURG, MISSOURI P. O. Box 434 Warrensburg, MO 64093 816/747-3066 John-Paul

KAREL PAUKERT, with Tom Freer, percussion, Museum of Art, Cleveland, OH, June 24: Concerto in A Minor, Vivaldi/Bach; Keyboard dances from Intabolatura Nova; that line which is earth's shadow, Harrison; Frammenti, Husa; Impetuoso, Wiedermann; Three Pieces, Teml; Critical Mass, Mobberley; Andantino, Petrali; Final in B-flat, op. 21, Franck.

RICHARD M. PEEK, Covenant Presbyterian Church, Charlotte, NC, June 7: Batalla I, Cabanilles; Quarto tiento de baxon de septimo tono, de Arauxo; Concerto in A Minor, Vivaldi/Bach; Prelude and Fugue in A Minor, S. 543, Bach; Variations on "Chartres," Peek; Scherzo, Allegro (Symphonie II), Vierne.

MELISSA PICHETTE, U.S. Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, CO, July 12: Alleluyas, Preston; Allein Gott in der Höh sei Ehr, S. 662, Toccata in F, S. 540, Bach; Fanfares to the Tongues of Fire, Resurrection, King; Tanz-Toccata, Heiller.

LINTON POWELL, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI, July 12: Diferencias sobre el canto llano, Cabezón; Ave maris stella, Palero; Tiento de falsas 2 tono, Castillo; Gaitilla de mano izquierda, Durón; Intento en re menor, Lidón; Sonata y fuga en sol mayor, Oxinaga; Preludio, paso y intento en sol menor, Himmo (Pange Lingua), López; Preludio, Andante y "Ave maris stella," Sessé.

DENIS REGNAUD, St. James United Church, Montreal, Quebec, August 4: Méditation, Divertissement, Canzona, Légende, Scherzetto, Arabesque, Choral, Lied, Marche funébro, Vierne.

ERIK REINHART, St. James United Church, Montreal, June 23: Schmücke dich, o liebe Seele, S. 654, Toccata and Fugue in F, S. 540, Bach; Benedictus, op. 59, Reger; Chorale No. 3 in A Minor, Franck.

NAOMI ROWLEY, Emanuel-St. John Lutheran Church, Lytton, IA, March 29: Tuba Tune in D Major, Lang; Prelude and Fugue on "O darkest woe," Brahms; O sacred head now wounded, S. 727, Bach; Lamb of God, pure and sinless, Cherwien; Grand Choeur Dialogué, Gigout; Concerto in F Major, Albinoni/Walther; Variations on "Awake, my heart, with gladness," Peeters; Pastorale on the 23rd Psalm, Kloppers; Toccata on "In the cross of Christ I glory," Cherwien.

MARILYN SCHEMPP, First United Methodist Church, Sioux Falls, SD, June 17: Lied, Carillon, Vierne; Prière, Jongen; Fantasmagorie, Alain; Chant de paix, Langlais; Toccata, Gigout.

MARY MOORE SKALICKY, Klaster Tepla, Czechoslovakia, July 26: Toccata C-dur, Cernohorsky; Nun komm, der Heiden Heiland, Bach; Fuga C-dur, Vanhal; Preludium a fuga g-moll, Buxtehude; Pastorale, Zipoli; Fuga a-moll, Seger; Flétnové hodiny, Haydn; Christ lag in Todesbanden, Böhm; Capriccio Pastorale, Frescobaldi; Partita sopra Jesu meine Freude, Walther; Toccata a fuga dmoll, Bach.

MARK STEINBACH, Methuen Memorial Hall, Methuen, MA, July 15: Tanz-Toccata, Heiller; Canon in C Major, Canon in A-flat Minor, Schumann; Ich armet' einen Linden Duft, Mahler/Steinbach; Toccata in D Minor and Fugue in D Major, op. 59, Reger; Joie et clarté des corps glorieux, Messiaen; Cantilène improvisée, Tournemire/Duruflé; Toccata, Guillou. MARILYN KAY STULKEN, St. John's Lutheran Church, Dillsboro, IN, May 5: Grand Choeur, op. 52, no. 2, Guilmant; Seven Dances from German Tablature Books, anon.; Prelude in C Minor, op. 37, Mendelssohn; From heaven above, Zeuner; Silent Night, Buck; Es ist das Heil, S. 639, Bach; Largo, Handel/Jackson; Bellevue, Hustad; Russian Hymn, Thayer; Was Gott tut, das ist wohlgetan, Pachelbel; Marche (Sonata Pontificale), Lemmens.

SAMUEL JOHN SWARTZ, California State University, Northridge, September 12: Prelude in G, Buxtehude; Öffertoire sur Vive le Roy, Raison; Batalla I Imperial, Cabanilles; Fantasy and Fugue in G Minor, S. 542, Bach; Agincourt Variations, Toutant; Voluntary VIII in D Minor, Stanley; Reflections on BACH, Heussenstamm; Variations on "America," Ives.

LIUWE TAMMINGA, Cleveland Museum of Art, Cleveland, OH, May 3: Concerto in A Minor, op. 8, no. 8, Torelli/ Walther; Sonata in G Minor, Corelli/Miller; Concerto in G Major, op. 3, no. 3, Vivaldi/ Bach; Offertorio, Rossini; Elevation, Bergamo; Sinfonia in pastorale, Morandi; Musette, op. 93, Remondi; Pari Intervallo, Mein Weg hat Gipfel und Wellentäler, Pärt; Toccata, Andriessen.

MICKEY THOMAS TERRY, National Presbyterian Church, Washington, DC, August 2: Pièce Héroïque, Franck; Tierce en taille, Dumage; Prelude and Fugue in D, S. 532, Bach; Prelude and Fugue in G minor, op. 7, Dupré; Anguished American Easter, Kerr; Tribute to Duke Ellington, Faxon; Sicilienne, Vierne; Fugue (Ad nos), Liszt.

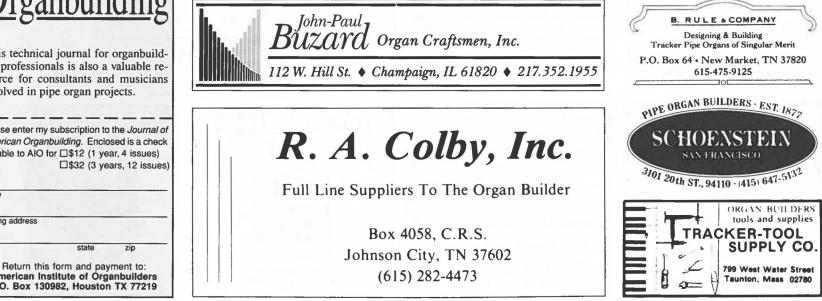

WILHELMINA TIEMERSMA, St. James United Church, Montreal, June 30: Offerte du 5e Ton: Vive le Roy, Raison; Dies sind die heil gen zehn Gebot', S. 678, 679, Bach; Fantaisie in E-flat, Saint-Saëns; Prière, Matton; Variations on America, Ives.

STEPHEN THARP, U.S. Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, CO, July 19: Praeludium in D Minor, Pachelbel; Vater unser, BuxWV 219, Buxtehude; Variations on "Lasst uns das Kindelein wiegen," Murschhauser; Prelude and Fugue in C Minor, S. 549, Bach; Variations (Symphony No. 8), Widor; Memor, Hakim.

DAVID WAGNER, First Congregational Church, Ann Arbor, MI, July 8: Fanfare for Organ, Cook; Cornet Voluntary, Walond; Concerto no. 15 in F Major, op. 3, Handel; Crown Imperial, Walton; Processional, Mathias; Pastorale in E Major, op. 12, Franck; Toccata and Fugue in D Minor, S. 562, Bach; Variations on "New Britain," Shearing; Grand Choeur Dialogue, Gigout.

TODD WILSON, First Presbyterian Church, Roanoke, VA, May 3: Pageant, Sowerby; Humoresque (L'Organo Primitivo), Yon; Londonderry Air, arr. Lemare; Prelude and Fugue in D Major, S. 532, Bach; Variations on a Noël, op. 20, Dupré; Roulade, op. 9, no. 3, Bingham; Sonata Eroica, Jongen.

ROSS WINDSOR, Mayne Hall, University of Queensland, July 10: Praeludium und Fuga in D-Dur, S. 532, Vom Himmel hoch, S. 769, Bach; Allegro and Andante, K. 608, Mozart; Präludium und Ciacona C-Dur, BuxWV 137, Buxtehude; Onder een linde groen, Sweelinck; Orgelsonate II, Hindemith; Präludium und Fuge über B.A.C.H., Liszt.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

MISCELLANEOUS

ALL REPLIES TO BOX NUMBERS that appear without an address should be sent to: THE DIAPASON 380 Northwest Hwy. Des Plaines, IL 60016

Orders for classified ads must be accompanied by payment. Orders will be accepted for from one to six months in advance.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

Southeastern company seeks experienced, motivated man or woman for long term associa-tion. Varied shop skills needed including slider chest making, console cabinetry, etc. Tuning/ maintenance skills a plus. Non-smoking environ-ment. Mail resume and references to: Organbuil-der, P.O. Box 313, Charleston, SC 29402; or E-mail to: 70611.723@compuserve.com.

Experienced organ builder to fill position of responsibility with established builder. Steiner-Reck, Inc. 502/634-3636.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

Organ Technician Wanted. The University of Michigan School of Music is seeking a master organ technician for full-time employment. Responsibilities include the maintenance, tuning, and scheduled reconditioning of 17 organs: a) a 120-stop E.M. Skinner (recently renovated); b) a 38-stop Fisk; c) two sizeable studio organs; and thirteen small electro-pneumatic and mechanical action organs action organs. Candidates for this post must have demonstraaction organs. Candidates for this post must have demonstra-ble skill and significant experience in organ technology, and the ability to consult productively with faculty and student performers to meet their instrumental requirements. A bachelor's degree in music and prior experience in a college/ university setting are preferred. Job performance will be evaluated by the Assistant to the Dean in consultation with the organ teaching faculty. The post is classified as "Technical Grade 15" with appointment anticipated at mid-range. At-tractive benefits (medical, dental, life insurances; retirement programs, etc.) add approximately 25% of the base salary to total compensation. Application is invited to: Barbara Burton, Per-sonnel Service Center, 1020 LS&A Building, Uni-versity of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48109-1382; telephone 313/747-0977. Deadline for receipt of applications is 31 De-cember 1992, with appointment to follow as soon thereafter as practical. The University of Michigan is a nondiscrimi-natory/affirmative action employer.

Organists: Augment your income through organ sales—send resume. Sales experience not required. Openings throughout U.S. Write: Allen Organ International Sales Headquarters, Macungie, PA 18062.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

Music Director: Full-time; primary choir con-ductor, experienced and trained in vocal music, must possess strong leadership qualities, with a minimum of a Bachelor of Music degree or equivalent, to develop member talents in music, and to establish and supervise a well-diversified music program. Send resume to Mr. Lauren Mai, Zion Lutheran Church, 912 N. Oneida St., Apple-ton, WI 54911.

PIPE ORGANS WANTED

Practice organ wanted: 2-manual and pedal; 2, 3, or 4 ranks; self-contained cabinet organ to fit under 8' ceiling. Send information, stoplist and photo to BOX JL-2, THE DIAPASON.

Wanted: Kilgen Petite Ensemble. Send information and photo to BOX JL-3, THE DIAPASON.

Wanted: small 2-manual cabinet organ by Holland American Organ Co.; especially "Pa-chelbel" model. Send information, photo, etc. to BOX SE-1, THE DIAPASON.

MISCELLANEOUS

Z-A-K. Zimbelstern Adaptor Kit. Just in time for Christmas! Features easy conver-sion from the tired old Zimbelstern sound to that of Sleigh Bells! Amaze your con-gregation at this year's Christmas Eve services. Easily installed with common household tools, the Z-A-K comes com-plete with sleigh bells, leather strap and all connectors. WRITE BOX Z-A-K, c/o THE DIAPASON.

MISCELLANEOUS WANTED

Modern, high-speed blower, 1HP. Contact: Samuel Donelson, 99 South Duncan, Fayetteville, AR 72701-5659, 501/442-8965

Used direct electric pipe valves similar to Reisner 601's. Any brand. 805/274-9586.

Small organ blower 12" or higher WP able to handle 7 ranks. Call Chris Walton at 609/921-9626.

PUBLICATIONS/ RECORDINGS

ORGAN LESSONS ON VIDEOCASSETTE. Part Li Manua & Pedal Technique, 32 minutes $29.95. Part II: Registration, 56 minutes $29.95. Write: Allen Organ Co., Box 36, Macungie, PA 18062-0036. Check, Money Order or Visa/Mastercard, or call 215/966-2202.

Kauai Paradise Island: bed & breakfast, $55.00 per night per room for two people. Your host, Jim Reid, past dean, San Jose Chapter. Explore the garden island of South Pacific. Play and record on our large Allen: 3-manual, 77 drawstop console. Brochures, organ specifica-tion, $2.00 to Jim Reid, 3465 Lawailoa Lane, Koloa, Kauai, Hawaii 96756. 808/332-7984. Member APOBA (317) 637-5222 A. David Moore, Inc. TRACKER ORGAN DESIGNERS & BUILDERS Goulding & Wood, Inc. HC 69 Box 6, North Pomfret, Vermont 05053 823 Massachusetts Ave. Indianapolis, IN 46204 802/457-3914 TAYLOR & BOODY ORGANBUILDERS J.F. NORDLIE COMPANY Gabriel Kney BERGHAUS * PIPE ORGAN BUILDIRS ORGAN CO. INC. 504 South Charlotte Avenue Sioux Falls, South Dakota 57103-2612 1-800-456-0834 George K. Taylor John H. Boody Route 1, Box 58 B, Staunton, Virginia 24401 708+544+4052 Fax 708+544+4058 South 25th Avenue • Bellwood, Illinois 60104 Telephone: (703) 886-3583 Robert M. Turner Organbuilder Bunn - Minnick Company BUILDER LEVSEN 953 Harrison Avenue Columbus, Ohio 43201 2939 EAST FLEVENTH STREET = EOS ANGER (213) 262-9253 2600 S. Azusa Ave., Apt. #284 ORGAN COMPANY BOX 542 BUFFALO, IOWA 52728 (800) 397-1242 (614) 299-7934 West Covina, CA 91792 (818) 814-1700 THE DIAPASON . 380 NORTHWEST HIGHWAY . DES PLAINES, IL 60016 CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES insert the advertisement shown below or enclosed in the Classified Advertising ection of THE DIAPASON for the following issue(s): Regular classified advertising is single para-graph "want ad" style. First line only of each ad in bold face type. PAYMENT MUST ACCOMPANY ORDER Display classified advertisements are set entirely in bold face type with the addition of a ruled box (border) surrounding the adver-tisement. __ 🗆 Regular 🗌 Boldface Category ____ Ad Copy ____ Regular Classified, per word Regular Classified minimum $.50 8.00 Display Classified, per word Display Classified minimum 25.00 Additional to above charges Box Service (mail forwarding) 7.00 NOTE: Orders for classified advertising must be accompanied by payment in full for the month(s) specified. Orders will be accepted for one, two, three, four, five, or six months in advance. Non-subscribers wanting single copies of the issue in which their advertisement ap-pears should include $2.00 per issue desired with their payment. Name Phone The Diapason reserves the right to desig-nate appropriate classification to advertise-ments, and to reject the insertion of advertis-ing deemed inappropriate to this magazine. Address _ Total Enclosed City/State_ _ Zip ___ Date Sent DECEMBER, 1992

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

PUBLICATIONS/ RECORDINGS

The Organ Literature Foundation, world's largest supplier of organ books and recordings, offers Catalogue "AA" listing 742 books, 3154 classical organ LPs, Cassettes and CDs, etc. Send $2 or 5 international reply coupons. The Organ Literature Foundation, 45 Norfolk Rd., Braintree, MA 02184-5918. 617/848-1388.

Organ records for sale. Send #10 SASE for list. P.O. Box 384, Burlington, IL 60109.

Historic Organs of San Francisco features 20 historic pipe organs in the San Francisco Bay area recorded in June, 1988 during the Organ Historical Society's National Convention, available as a two-cassette or two-compact disc set more than two hours long. Both formats include a 28page booklet with histories and stoplists of the organs heard. Twenty organists perform 31 works by 30 composers. Order cassettes or CDs from the OHS Catalog, Box 26611, Richmond, VA 23261 at $22.95 plus $1.50 shipping and handling.

A complete listing of all available back-numbers of THE DIAPASON is now available. Many from the 1930s on, and some older issues may also be obtained for your personal or library collection. Send SASE to: The Organ Historical Society, Box 26811, Richmond, VA 23261.

The Organ Historical Society is offering a 32page catalog of publications, recordings, and other items, many of which are produced by the OHS. The catalog also includes many hard-tofind popular recordings and books from other sources. Send 45¢ stamp to: OHS, Box 26811, Richmond, VA 23261.

HARPSICHORDS

Neupert harpsichords, clavichords, forteplanos new and used. Wally Pollee, 1955 W. John Beers Rd., Stevensville, MI 49127.

HARPSICHORDS

ERIC HERZ HARPSICHORDS, est. 1954. See our selection of finely crafted harpsichords in the German, French, and English traditions. Come play them in our showroom, or send for free catalog: 12 Howard Street, Cambridge, MA 02139. 617/868-6772.

Flemish harpsichord. Single manual. Disposition 1 × 8', 1 × 4'. Copy of 1584 Moermons built from Hubbard kit by Stephen Lowry. Black, balluster-turning stand. Exceptional tone, beautiful soundboard painting and maroon marbling. Heavy padded cover included. $7,500. Betty Ishida, 800 Arlington Ave., Berkeley, CA 94707. 510/525-1501.

PIPE ORGANS FOR SALE

5-rank Moller pipe organ, playing in church. Call 313/471-1515.

1884 Hilborne Roosevelt tracker organ 2M, 21R, 17 stops. Completely rebuilt and enlarged with Pedal 16' reed. Elegant carved walnut case. Approx. 16' wide × 9' deep × 14' tall. Available immediately. Asking $65,000 OBO. REPLY BOX NV-3, THE DIAPASON.

1942, 2 claviers, Jacques, 100-16 St. Hyacinthe, Quebec. Pipe organ, 8 ranks, 12 couplers, electropneumatic. Tone and sound same calibre as Casavant of that period. Value, $75,000. Asking $15,000 or best offer. Contact Louise Winter, 813/642-7880. P.O. Box 270, Marco Island, FL 33969.

Morey & Barnes opus 166 built 1896; restored and available for inspection; 1 manual and pedal, 7 ranks. Picture and specifications on page 15 of September, 1992 DIAPASON. Contact Thomas-Pierce, P.O. Box 2562, Palm Beach, FL 33480.

PIPE ORGANS FOR SALE

2M & Pedal/20, 1928 Morrell organ, electropneumatic action, Legge oak console, ivory keys. Buyer remove. $10,000 Canadian or best offer. May be seen and played. Toronto, Canada. Trinity Church 1-416/775-6098.

1968 Reuter, II/19 with oak drawknob console. Exposed Great on two chests, Swell & Antiphonal. Washington, DC area, available Summer, 1993. For information call 703/734-8585.

Verlinden, ca. 1950s, electro-pneumatic, 2manual & pedat, unified. Available January-February, 1993. First English Lutheran, 401 W. Main, Whitewater, WI 53109. 414/473-5076.

Two-manual, 9-rank Moller (double Artiste), electro-pneumatic. Available Fall/Winter, 1992. Church building larger building. For sale all or parts to highest bidder. First Congregational Church, 10 W. Lockwood, St. Louis, MO 63119. 314/962-0475.

11-rank unit pipe organ. 2-manual and pedal console; one 5-rank chest, 6 single-rank chests; Reisner relay with 41 switches for 3 manuals and pedal; Kinetic blower. Call 908/638-6063.

A.B. Felgemaker Opus 735 one-manual tracker organ. Presently installed in St. Mary Church, Antwerp, OH; 5 stops; dimensions: 9'2" across, 6'0" deep, 14'0" high. Contact: Muller Pipe Organ Co., 1365 S. Detroit Ave., Toledo, OH 43614.

3-manual, 9-rank pipe organ; good condition; has 4 sets of reeds: Vox–Oboe–French Horn and Trumpet. $8,600 or best offer. Used Kilgen magnets $3.00 each. 517/536-4208.

1991 Laukhuff tracker 2-manual and pedal; 17 stops, 21 ranks; bi-level combination action. Too small for church; excellent condition. Asking $150,000 or best offer. Available immediately. Call Tim Keyes 908/521-0112 between 9:00–2:30 E.S.T.

PIPE ORGANS FOR SALE

1940 Moller pipe organ, 2 manuals and pedals. Rebuilt by Moller 1972; 7 ranks, good condition. Regular maintenance. Can be seen and played. Buyer to remove. $4,000. Immanuel Lutheran Church, 830 South Avenue West, Missoula, MT 59801. 406/549-0736.

Two-manual 13-rank pipe organ; built in the 1920s; rebuilt by Chester A. Raymond; buyer to remove; price negotiable. St. Peter's Lutheran Church, 2332 Grand Ave., Baldwin, NY 11510. 516/223-1951.

1981 Marrin positive organ; 1 manual, 45-note compass, "short octave" in the bass, mechanical key action and stop action, slider windchest, divided manual at middle "c", three ranks of pipes: Gedackt 8', Rohrflote 4', Principal 2', selfcontained blower; 100 volt, Call St. Cloud State University, Department of Music, 612/255-3223 for price and details.

ELECTRONIC ORGANS FOR SALE

Allen Organ. Custom 3-manual, late 60s independent oscillator. Classical stoptab console, 65 speaking stops including 2 mixtures, 32' Diapason, and solo reed. 28 independent ranks of oscillators, no unification whatsoever. 12 50watt amps, complete main and antiphonal, 24 speaker cabinets. 25-note Maas-Rowe chimes. Organ is complete and in good working order when recently removed to storage except the electro-mechanical capture action, which is marginal. Recording of instrument is available. Asking $5,000.00. Possibility of delivery and installation or assistance in western U.S. Call Bob Knight at 619/631-1556.

3 classic AGO organs, enclosed speakers: Rodgers 110-II, $5,000; Baldwin D-900, $6,000; Wurlitzer sampled sound C-300, $8,500. Also info on sampled sound 3-manual Wurlitzer C-400, best price. Plenum Church Organs, William J Smith III, 425 Pine St., Darby, PA 19023. 215/ 583-7708.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

ELECTRONIC ORGANS FOR SALE

1992 Hammond 825 digital AGO spec. organ. Digitally sampled: pipe voices, drawbars, chimes & piano. Digital reverb, sequencer, pistons & animation; 2 manual, 32 pedal. $7,000 delivery available. Other 32-pedal consoles available from $1,000. Doug Jackson Electronics. 414/642-9732.

1990 Schafer & Sons church computer organ, CS-2, new; 2 manuals & pedal, AGO specs, 47 stops, chimes, harp, internal & external speakers with acoustics, $18,500, FOB, Smith Organ Co., P.O. Box 8166, Wichita, KS 67208.

Rodgers Trio, Mod. 322, 3-man, 32 ped, extern Leslie spkr & extern Rodgers spkr. Walnut console & bench. Excel cond. $5,000/BO, buyer ship. Call Phil Wellington, 603/934-5579.

Viscount organ; 3 manuals, 48 stops with 2 pedal 32's. Drawstop console; 6 memories; one year old. $12,000. Write P.O. Box 1292, Evans, GA 30809.

REED ORGANS

2MP reed organs, all sizes and shapes. I have what you want. Organ list: $1.00 and SASE. Phoenix Reed Organ Resurrection, Box 3, Ja-maica, VT 05343. 802/874-4173. The reed you need. Parts. Specify w/SASE.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE

16' Trombone, 16' Oboe, both mitered, Reeds, Mixtures, Principals, etc. Send for current list to: Lyon Keyboard Instruments, 16144 Veronica, Eastpointe, MI 48021. 313/779-1199.

1947 3-manual Austin console, 9-stop slider chests, tracker pipes, swell box, SLIC motors, new 5-stop portable elec. chest, 16' princ. mi-tered. 816/279-4700 or 816/446-2082.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE

Used Reuter organ parts, SASE. Beeston Pipe Organ Service, 2606 47th St., Des Moines, IA 50310. 515/277-7383.

Used pipes and organ equipment, SASE, Lee Organs, Box 2061, Knoxville, TN 37901.

Large selection of used pipes, chests, blow-ers, consoles for sale. Legal size SASE. A&J Reed & Pipe Organ Service, 36 Carter St., Newburgh, NY 12550. 914/561-1480.

Korg MT1200 Tuner. $275 (list $360). Hears A0-C8. Plays C2-B5. Shows pitch, note, octave. Can program calibration, temperament. Korg AT12 Tuner. $155 (list $225). Song of the Sea, 47 West St., Bar Harbor, ME 04609. 207/ 288-5653. Brochures.

Must sell: mint 8' Trivo trumpet 3.5" very bright on 5". 1HP Ventus 240 volt 7.5" static 4 year. 219/432-3794.

Wicks 2-manual church console, $100 or best offer. Swell shades and mechanism, $75. 312/ 878-4875.

New Meidinger blower, 3/4 HP; 1910 Estey reed organ, 2-manual and pedal; 8' oboe 61 pipes; 2M console shell with pedal; other parts. St. Mary Church, 817/562-3619.

SERVICES/ SUPPLIES

Call or write for quote. Custom solid-state switching and coupling system. NO plug-ins, NO chips, and NO assembly required. Fast turn-around. Simply connect your chest and keyboard cables to our terminal board. NE Organ Systems, 441 Main St., Biddeford, ME 04005. 1-800/370-7473.

Robert Copeland Pipe and Reed Organ Re-pair—all makes. Organist and director. P.O. Box 467, Jeannette, PA 15644. 412/527-6898.

Blowers American made by White Blower Mfg. Co. Excellent reliability, two-year warranty. Factory direct pricing saves dollars. For catalog and more information call 1-800/433-4614. 2540 Webster Rd., Lansing, MI 48917.

SERVICES/

SUPPLIES

REEDS—Prompt repair of damaged pipes. Careful cleaning and renovation of old stops at wind pressures up to 12". New resonators for "half-length" stops to im-prove tone and tuning. Voicing done in our shop or on site. Packing materials supplied for safe transport. Herbert L. Huestis and Associates, 713 East Front Street, Lynden, WA 98264. Phone 604/946-3952; Fax 604/946-5739; CompuServe # 70771,1047. Inquiries invited for consul-tation on special problems or projects.

MIDI Interface Systems for pipe and elec-tronic organs using +10-20V keying & stop voltage. Play your music synthesizer from your organ keyboards using our Model "A" MIDI Interface System. RECORD-PLAYBACK your pipe organ with our Model "C" MIDI Interface System using a stan-dard MIDI Sequencer. The least expensive, most reliable and easiest to install Record-Playback system on the market. Write for details and prices on our Model "A" and "C" MIDI systems. Devtro-nix Organs, Inc., 1823 Avondale Ave., Sacra-mento, CA 95825. 916/971-9074.

Releathering. Burness Associates can pro-vide all your releathering in our modern well-equipped shop. We specialize in Skinner, Casa-vant, and Moller pouch boards and actions. We can also provide services on the actions of other manufacturers. Burness Associates, P.O. Box 564, Montgomeryville, PA 18936. 215/368-1121.

"The Pneumatic Works" Specializing in all types of releathering. Write: 76 Ed Clark Rd., Colrain, MA 01340, or phone 413/624-3249.

SERVICES/ SUPPLIES

Austin actions recovered. Over 20 years ex-perience. Units thoroughly tested and fully guar-anteed. Manual motor $32.40 f.o.b. Technical assistance available. Foley-Baker, Inc., 1212 Bos-ton Trnpk., Bolton, CT 06043. 1-800/621-2624.

Solid State relay for pipes. Save 50% by assembling these simple printed circuit modules to make any relay configuration required. Highest quality components supplied. Write for informa-tion: Devtronix Organs, Inc., 1823 Avondale Ave., Sacramento, CA 95825.

Combination Action, capture type. Least ex-pensive and most reliable system available. Mod-ular form lets you buy only what is required. Compatible with any relay. Not a kit. Write for information: Devtronix Organs, Inc., 1823 Avon-dale Ave., Sacramento, CA 95825.

Low note pedal generator for pipes. Will supply all 32 notes at pitches and voices required. Single tuning adjustment. Power amplifiers and speakers to match the installation. Compare our low price to others. Write for information: Devtronix Organs, Inc., 1823 Avondale Ave., Sacramento, CA 95825.

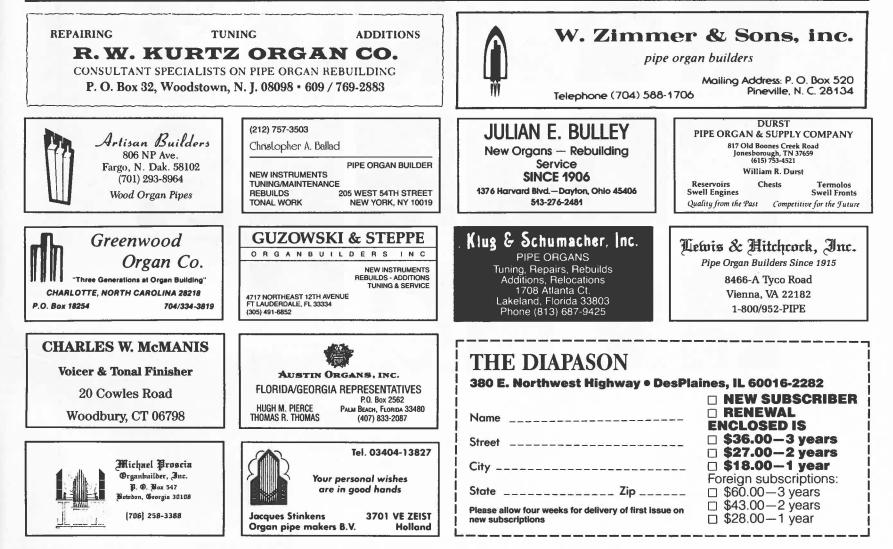

Classified Ads must be prepaid, and may be ordered for 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, or 6 months.

> ALL REPLIES TO BOX NUMBERS that appear without an address should be sent to: THE DIAPASON 380 Northwest Hwy. Des Plaines, IL 60016

Harris Precision Products Builders of high quality Pipe Organ Components

7047 S. Comstock Avenue, Whittier, California 90602 U.S.A. • (213) 693-3442

David C. Harris, Member: International Society of Organ Builders, American Institute of Organ Builders, Associated Pipe Organ Builders of America

Karen McFarlane Artists

William Albright

12429 Cedar Road, Suite 5

Cleveland, Ohio 44106 (216) 721-9095/9096 (216) 721-9098 (FAX)

Gerre Hancock

Judith Hancock

Martin Haselbock

Olivier Latry

David Higgs

Clyde Holloway

Thomas Murray

Peter Hurford

Peter Planyavsky

Simon Preston

Ladd Thomas

Choral Conductors George Guest David Hill Martin Neary

John Weaver

Daniel Roth

Gillian Weir

